WETA program offerings are food for the imagination, sparking curiosity and transporting us while educating and entertaining us as part of our journey of lifelong learning. In addition to our riveting Thriller Thursday and Sunday-night drama presentations, and our captivating American History Night documentaries, our Wednesday-night science and natural history explorations offer splendid viewing experiences. This month, we feature a dazzling set of programs on the series NOVA, which headlines Wednesday nights on WETA PBS and WETA Metro. The miniseries — Universe Revealed — takes us deep into space to explore momentous events that changed the cosmos. All five episodes will be made available for streaming, should you prefer to view them at a time of your choosing. Also on Wednesdays, surrounding NOVA, watch for intriguing new episodes of Nature and more.

Elsewhere among our television broadcasts, we present superb programs marking Native American Heritage Month, and a wide variety of lively music and arts presentations. On Classical WETA, enjoy the return of NSO Showcase, featuring the stellar ensemble in performance, and be sure to participate in this month's annual Classical Countdown at classicalweta.org.

Thank you for your support for WETA.

Finding Your Roots with Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

WETA co-production airs Tuesdays at 8 p.m. on WETA PBS
& WETA Metro; stream on the PBS Video App

Throughout November, WETA reprises more Season 7 episodes of the acclaimed genealogy series and WETA co-production Finding Your Roots with Henry Louis Gates, Jr. in anticipation of new Season 8 episodes, which begin premiering January 4. This month, encore episodes feature comedians Lewis Black (right, with Gates) and Roy Wood, Jr. (November 2); actor John Lithgow and journalist Maria Hinojosa (November 9); media personality Andy Cohen and radio journalist Nina Totenberg (November 16); and musician Pharrell Williams and filmmaker Kasi Lemmons (November 23). Through cutting-edge DNA research and old-school sleuthing, the programs trace the family trees of some of America's most compelling personalities. Harvard scholar Prof. Henry Louis Gates, Jr., the series writer, host and executive producer, guides each discovery.

In the new year, watch for more Finding Your Roots episodes airing January through April, as WETA presents 10 new programs with guests including Erin Burnett, Terry Crews, Lee Daniels, Tony Danza, Kathryn Hahn, Anita Hill, Nathan Lane, John Leguizamo and Melissa Villaseñor.

WETA TV Highlights

Wallander on Thriller Thursdays

Double features air Thursdays at 8 p.m. on WETA PBS;
stream with WETA Passport

Starting in November, WETA presents Thriller Thursday double features of the Emmy- and BAFTA-winning crime drama Wallander, starring Kenneth Branagh. The first television adaptation of author Henning Mankell's internationally bestselling mysteries (and Branagh's first recurring television role), the drama follows scruffy, sensitive Swedish detective Inspector Kurt Wallander as he probes gritty murders. Filmed on location in southern Sweden (and later, Latvia as well), and set in the bucolic seaside town of Ystad, Wallander follows the middle-aged sleuth as he battles personal demons while solving heinous crimes. As the drama opens, the policeman is burdened by a recent break-up with his wife, blood sugar gone haywire, a daughter trying to run his life, and an artist father succumbing to Alzheimer's who paints the same scene over and over. The manifold challenges in the protagonist's personal life focus his concentration on the complex cases unfolding around him. WETA presents all four seasons of Wallander — 12 episodes — in November and December. Episodes are also available for binge-viewing with WETA Passport.

NOVA: Universe Revealed

Wednesdays at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS & WETA Metro;
stream on the PBS Video App

Adazzling new five-part PBS and BBC NOVA science miniseries explores the history and future of the universe on Wednesdays in November. The series began October 27 with the program Age of Stars (for those who missed the broadcast, episodes can be streamed on the PBS Video App or via WETA's website, weta.org), and November episodes are Milky Way, Alien Worlds, Black Holes and Big Bang. The series, a sequel to and expansion on NOVA's acclaimed 2019 series The Planets, uses CGI imagery, the latest scientific research, and archival footage captured during scientific missions to tell the story of the universe, from its moment of inception 13.8 billion years ago, to what could be its ultimate fate, trillions upon trillions of years in the distant future.

Delving into the vastness of space, Universe Revealed spotlights powerful moments when the universe changed forever — and examines the universe's characters and how their fates are intertwined with our own. The cast list in this ongoing drama features rogue planets, black holes more massive than a billion suns, and more — and each character has its own extraordinary story to tell. State-of-the-art animation delivers photorealistic glimpses of the birth of the very first star, the chaos created as two galaxies collide, and the power of a supermassive black hole as it flings a star across space so violently that it's still traveling millions of years later.

Independent Lens and POV Films

Mondays at 10 p.m. on WETA PBS
(Saturday nights on WETA Metro);
stream on the PBS Video App

Nov. 1: *POV: North by Current • A filmmaker returns to his rural Michigan hometown after the death of his young niece and reflects on struggles with grief and addiction — examining family, faith, and trans identity.

Nov. 8: *Independent Lens: Ferguson Rises • The Missouri protests surrounding the 2014 killing of Black teenager Michael Brown Jr. by a white police officer propelled Black Lives Matter to prominence and inspired a new global civil rights movement. This film explores the aftermath of Brown's killing from many perspectives — interwoven with an intimate portrayal of a Black father's grief and resilience.

Nov. 15: *Independent Lens: Storm Lake • Go inside a family-run newspaper serving an Iowa town. Its Pulitzer Prize-winning editor Art Cullen and his team dedicate themselves to keeping the paper — and local journalism — alive.

Nov. 22: *Independent Lens: Duty Free • The journey of a 75-year-old woman who loses the only job she has ever known underscores the economic insecurity faced by millions of Americans. Rebecca has no savings, no safety net and no work prospects. She and her son, a filmmaker, reclaim her future through bucket-list adventures.

Nov. 23 at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS & WETA Metro: *Independent Lens: Home from School: The Children of Carlisle • Airing as part of Native American Heritage Month (see weta.org/nativeamerican), this film explores the history of assimilationist Native American boarding schools and follows a delegation of Northern Arapaho tribal members as they travel to Pennsylvania to retrieve the remains of children who died at one such school in the 1880s.

American Veteran & American Exile

Tuesdays, Nov. 2, 9 & 16 at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS &
WETA Metro; stream on the PBS Video App

The four-part series American Veteran illuminates the veteran experience with a range of voices from across the arc of American history. In each episode, participants relate moving stories, highlighting personal remembrances. Episode narrators are TV host and former Marine Drew Carey; Iraq War Army veteran Senator Tammy Duckworth; actor, Vietnam War veteran (National Guard) and Native American (Cherokee) activist Wes Studi; and actor and Army veteran J.R. Martinez. The first episode aired October 26 and can be streamed on the PBS Video App or at weta.org.

On Tuesday, November 16 at 10 p.m., tune in for Voces on PBS: American Exile, which spotlights two Mexican American brothers — both decorated Vietnam veterans who volunteered to serve — who like thousands of other veterans find themselves facing deportation from the United States. The film follows Manuel and Valente Valenzuela as they don their uniforms for one last fight — to “leave no soldier behind” and bring the plight of deported veterans to the White House.

N. Scott Momaday: Words from a Bear: American Masters

Saturday, Nov. 6 at 10 p.m. on WETA PBS;
stream on the PBS Video App

As part of Native American Heritage Month, the biography series American Masters explores the life of the influential Pulitzer Prize-winning Kiowa novelist, short-story writer, essayist and poet N. Scott Momaday in the film Words from a Bear. The National Medal of Arts winner's novel “House Made of Dawn” led to the breakthrough of Native American literature into the mainstream. The documentary delves into the psyche behind the celebrated author, featuring interviews with Momaday himself in addition to indigenous authors Rilla Askew (“Fire in Beulah”) and Joy Harjo, the first Native American United States Poet Laureate; actors Robert Redford, Jeff Bridges, Beau Bridges and James Earl Jones; and Richard West, founding director of the Smithsonian National Museum of the American Indian.

WETA Arts

WETA production airs Monday, Nov. 1 at 9:30 p.m. on WETA PBS, 8:30 p.m. on WETA Metro;
repeats Nov. 15; stream on the PBS Video App

On WETA Arts in November, learn the fascinating story of the “little sister” of the Statue of Liberty. The 9-foot-tall, 1,000-pound version of Lady Liberty was installed on the front lawn of the French ambassador’s residence in Washington, D.C. this past summer. The statue’s journey to America and complicated ocean crossing from Paris is a reminder of the long relationship between the two countries, even amid recent diplomatic tensions. The segment also highlights the history of Lady Liberty’s sculptor, Frédéric Auguste Bartholdi, and his “Fountain of Light and Water” at the U.S. Botanic Garden in the District.

In addition, this episode of WETA Arts introduces viewers to the members of the American Military Spouses Choir as they gather to sing together for the first time since the coronavirus pandemic began. The choir will be featured in WETA Arts Holiday Concert, a special program airing in December. Also, host Felicia Curry speaks with Lisa Warwick, interim director of the D.C. Public Library’s People’s Archive, about how its local music collection tells the cultural story of the District of Columbia.

WETA Arts repeats Nov. 15 on WETA PBS & WETA Metro — and streams on the PBS Video App and weta.org.

The Oratorio: A Documentary with Martin Scorsese

Friday, Nov. 5 at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS & WETA Metro;
stream on the PBS Video App

A new program reveals the fascinating story of the 1826 performance at St. Patrick’s Old Cathedral in Little Italy that marked the arrival of Italian opera in the New World. The Oratorio — hosted by Martin Scorsese — explores the richness of the immigrant experience, the beginning of a cultural awakening in America, and the enduring power of art. Following the 9 p.m. documentary, at 10 p.m. Da Ponte’s Oratorio: A Concert for New York — a restaging of the iconic performance lost to history — premieres as well.

The Oratorio features interviews with opera theater director Claudio Orazi and musicologist Francesco Zimei, who led the efforts to restage the performance that brought Italian opera to New York City. Jared Lamenzo, music director and organ master, provides a behind-the-scenes look at the inventive engineering needed to keep St. Patrick’s 150-year-old organ working. The film also highlights the enduring importance of the cathedral in present-day New York with current parishioners who discuss the church and their community.

Music and Ballet on Great Performances

Fridays, Nov. 12, 19 & 26 at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS &
WETA Metro; stream on the PBS Video App

This month, stage arts series Great Performances presents entertaining specials on three Friday nights. On November 12, tune in for A John Williams Premiere at Tanglewood, featuring a concert of works by the legendary composer from Boston Symphony Orchestra’s summer home at Tanglewood, including Williams’ new violin concerto performed by virtuoso Anne-Sophie Mutter, and other works conducted by Andris Nelsons.

The following week, November 19, watch San Francisco Symphony Reopening Night, featuring the kickoff of the symphony’s 110th season as it welcomes Music Director Esa-Pekka Salonen and presents music by John Adams, Esperanza Spalding and Wayne Shorter, and a performance by Alonzo King LINES Ballet.

On November 26, enjoy Coppelia, a playful contemporary reboot of the 1870 comic classical ballet favorite, with a blend of live action and CGI; the film features ballet stars Michaela DePrince and Daniel Camargo.

Secrets of the Dead

Wednesdays at 10 p.m. on WETA PBS & WETA Metro; stream on the PBS Video App

History series Secrets of the Dead features four new episodes this month, examining iconic events and other topics to shine new light on the past:

Nov. 3: *The First Circle of Stonehenge • A decade-long archaeological quest reveals that the oldest stones of Stonehenge, Europe's most iconic Neolithic monument, had a previous life before being moved 150 miles to Salisbury Plain — they originally belonged to a much earlier sacred site in West Wales.

Nov. 10: *Hindenburg's Fatal Flaws • In 1937, the Hindenburg airship exploded into flames upon landing, killing 36 people in the horrifying crash. For decades, the exact cause of the Hindenburg's crash has remained a mystery. Now, recently discovered letters, maintenance reports and company memos lead experts to point to critical construction flaws.

Nov. 17: *A Samurai in the Vatican • In the early 17th century, a feudal lord sent a Japanese diplomatic mission to Europe to negotiate with the Pope and the King of Spain in hopes opening up a new trade route. Led by samurai Hasekura Tsunenaga and Franciscan monk Luis Sotelo, the expedition spent seven years traveling the globe.

Nov. 24: *The Caravaggio Heist • In 1984, a Maltese national treasure went missing from the cathedral of St. John in Valletta — a masterpiece by the legendary Italian painter Caravaggio. After years, Father Marius Zerafa, director of museums in Malta, managed to communicate with the thieves and set off on a quest to recover the priceless painting.

The Waterhole & the Rockies, on Nature

Wednesdays, Nov. 3, 10 & 17 at 8 p.m. on WETA PBS & WETA Metro; stream on the PBS Video App

In new Nature film The Elephant and the Termite (Nov. 3), witness the dramas of Africa's waterholes, which are central to animal life. This episode visits southern Kenya to spotlight these important places that are home to a wide array of creatures, including many who live at an elephant's toenail height, such as frogs, dung beetles, and chameleons. This is the story of the relationship between Africa's largest and smallest — and the wildlife community they support. Two Peabody Award-winning filmmakers and their team spent two years camped out at a waterhole to record life at Africa's great wildlife meeting place.

Also tune in to the two-part Nature series Born in the Rockies (Nov. 10 & 17) and follow the drama as animal families struggle to survive in one of the world's most challenging and spectacular habitats. Through the seasons, filmmakers follow the lives of a herd of Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep and their newborn lambs; a mother grizzly bear and her cubs; and a flock of sandhill cranes and their offspring.

The Pilgrims: American Experience

WETA co-production airs Saturday, Nov. 20, 10 p.m. on WETA PBS; 8 p.m. on WETA Metro; stream on the PBS Video App

In an encore presentation, WETA reprises a 2015 production from director Ric Burns that spotlights the small group of religious radicals whose determination to establish a separatist religious community planted the seeds for America's founding. The Pilgrims brought with them ideas and practices that would help to form the political and cultural DNA of America, but the history of their colony has been shrouded in myth and misconception. The two-hour documentary, co-produced by WETA and Steeplechase Films, in association with the BBC and CTVC, brings to life the unvarnished story of America's early settlers. Oliver Platt narrates; and Roger Rees portrays William Bradford, the Plymouth Plantation governor who wrote the definitive history of the early Massachusetts colony.

Celebrating PBS NewsHour

Monday, November 29 at 8 p.m. on WETA PBS

A new special highlights the history and accomplishments of groundbreaking public media news operation PBS NewsHour. Since the launch of its first iteration in 1975, the newscast has set the standard for broadcast journalism and garnered a wide array of major awards. For more than 45 years, millions have turned to PBS NewsHour for the reliable reporting that has made it one of the most trusted sources of news on television — and online. Celebrating PBS NewsHour showcases the way Anchor and Managing Editor Judy Woodruff and the NewsHour team create the acclaimed hour-long daily newscast, a production of NewsHour Productions LLC, a subsidiary of WETA. Learn about the reporters, editors, producers and on-air journalists, and how the broadcast comes together, in this program that celebrates the integrity, balance and professionalism of PBS NewsHour.

Great Performances: Andrea Bocelli Live in Central Park

Sunday, November 28 at 7 p.m. on WETA PBS

Recorded on September 15, 2011, beloved tenor Andrea Bocelli performed a free concert on Central Park's Great Lawn before tens of thousands, with the New York Philharmonic conducted by its music director Alan Gilbert. Joining Bocelli on stage on this memorable night were Céline Dion, Tony Bennett, Chris Botti and David Foster. Sopranos Ana María Martínez and Pretty Yende, violinist Nicola Benedetti, bass baritone Bryn Terfel and flutist Andrea Griminelli are also part of the spectacular evening, along with the Westminster Symphonic Choir. The concert, a special gift to New York City, featured the world's most popular Italian tenor presenting a repertoire that included well-known arias, fan favorites, and some surprises. The first act includes operatic selections, including Verdi and Puccini favorites, and the second is devoted to more contemporary fare.

The Dean Martin and Frank Sinatra Family Christmas Show

Tuesday, November 30 at 8 p.m. on WETA PBS

Entertainers Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin, along with their families, joined together for this memorable Christmas celebration, filmed in 1967. On the show, the pair offers a medley of many top songs, in addition to more than a dozen holiday classics. The duo is joined by an all-star cast of friends and family, including Nancy Sinatra, Gail Martin, Al Casey and Sammy Davis, Jr. The special brims with fan favorites, including solos by Dean ("I'll Be Home for Christmas"), Frank ("Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas"), Nancy ("These Boots Are Made for Walking" with special holiday lyrics); and Gail ("Santa Claus Is Coming to Town"). Dean and Frank duet on "I Can't Give You Anything but Love," "Pennies from Heaven," "A Foggy Day," "The Lady Is a Tramp" and "All of Me," and the entire cast joins in on holiday carols.

Heart: Live at the Royal Albert Hall

Saturday, November 27 at 11 p.m. on WETA PBS

In a career spanning over 40 years it seems inconceivable that the rock band Heart had never performed at London's most famous venue, the Royal Albert Hall. That changed in June 2016 as the group appeared with The Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, adding a classical vibe to hits such as "These Dreams," "Alone" and "What About Love." Bandmates and sisters Ann and Nancy Wilson also reinvented old favorites such as "Dreamboat Annie" and "Magic Man" while rocking the house with top hits "Crazy on You" and "Barracuda." The band has sold more than 35 million albums worldwide.

Cranford and Return to Cranford • Set in 1840s England as the Industrial Revolution gathers steam, this witty and poignant BBC drama follows the people of a small village on the cusp of major change as a railway link from Manchester nears completion. Cranford is based on three novels by Elizabeth Gaskell, woven together to spotlight ordinary lives during one extraordinary year. The acclaimed five-part series, written for the screen by Heidi Thomas (Call the Midwife), features a magnificent cast, including Judi Dench, Michael Gambon, Francesca Annis, Eileen Atkins, Philip Glenister, Alex Jennings, Lesley Manville, Julia McKenzie, Imelda Staunton, Julia Sawalha and Greg Wise, among others. The series won multiple BAFTAs and Emmys. A sequel, Return to Cranford, is also available for streaming.

North & South • In a four-part adaptation, politics meets passion in Elizabeth Gaskell's tale of love across the social divide, set in the world of Victorian industrial society. Margaret Hale (played by Daniela Denby-Ashe) is a southerner from a country vicarage newly settled in the industrial northern England town of Milton. There, she misjudges charismatic cotton-mill owner John Thornton (Richard Armitage), whose passion and strength of purpose are a match for her own pride and willfulness. During a labor strike, Hale and Thornton clash — but to her surprise she develops feelings for him. The stellar cast includes Tim Piggott-Smith, Lesley Manville, Brendan Coyle and Anna Maxwell-Martin.

Land Girls • A 15-episode drama follows the lives, loves, highs and lows of four young English women — Nancy, Joyce, Bea and Annie — who leave their homes and families to join the Woman's Land Army during World War II. A civilian organization, the WLA sent city women to rural farms to replace the male workers who had been called up to the military. With an all-star cast including Nathaniel Parker, Sophie Ward and Christine Bottomley, the production spotlights the four women in their work — and through scandal, pregnancy, marriage and more; the bonds between them are tested as they grow into womanhood. Available Nov. 27.

WETA UK Highlights

Baptiste on Masterpiece

Thursdays at 10 p.m. starting Nov. 11 on WETA UK

In the six-part crime thriller Baptiste, Tchéry Karyo revives his role as French detective Julien Baptiste in a spinoff of “The Missing.” In Series 1, the retired, restless sleuth visits his daughter in Amsterdam and has lunch with old flame Martha Horchner, the city’s chief of police, who recruits his help in finding Natalie, a missing girl who is the niece of Englishman Edward Stratton. Martha believes the case is connected to a Romanian sex-trafficking gang and that it is vital to find Natalie soon. Tom Hollander (The Night Manager, Us) and Jessica Raine (Call the Midwife) round out the cast.

Cranford

Fridays at 9 p.m. starting Nov. 12 on WETA UK

Oscar-winner Judi Dench leads a superb ensemble cast in this classic Elizabeth Gaskell adaptation — a rich and comic drama based on the author’s novels about life in a small, mid-19th-century English market town during an era of rapid social transformation. The poignant story follows the minor absurdities and major tragedies in the lives of Cranford residents during one year as railway construction from the city of Manchester draws nearer, bringing fears of change. In parallel, the arrival of a handsome London doctor with new medical methods causes a stir. The series and its sequel stream with WETA Passport.

Africa & Britain: A Forgotten History

Sundays at 9 p.m. starting Nov. 14 at 9 p.m. on WETA UK

The history of Black people in Britain is often reduced to the story of recent settlement, but African people have been part of British history for 2,000 years. This landmark four-part series, hosted by historian David Olusoga, challenges preconceptions, telling the story of this cross-continental relationship, reaching back into Roman times when the first Black Africans were recorded in Britain. Forgotten art vaults are unlocked; artifacts are re-examined; and spotlighted are an enslaved young African brought to Britain under the protection of Queen Victoria, the legacy of slavery, and the impact of the world wars on integration in Britain.

Guilt on Masterpiece

Fridays at 10 p.m. starting Nov. 26 on WETA UK

In this four-part drama, a drunken drive home from a wedding lands two Scottish brothers in increasingly hot water as they commit more and more crimes to hide their culpability in a hit-and-run. Mark Bonnar and Jamie Sives star as the co-conspirators — attorney Max and slacker Jake. Ruth Bradley stars as Angie, the victim’s niece and closest relative. Arriving in Edinburgh from her home in Chicago, Angie meets the brothers at her uncle’s wake, where they have come to retrieve incriminating evidence. Angie and Jake hit it off, which complicates Max’s plan to escape justice.

Also this month: Tune in for a special Foyle’s War, Series 1 marathon on Saturday, November 27, 10 a.m.-8 p.m. WETA UK also features the 12-part Great Tours presentation England, the 1960s, and the Triumph of the Beatles, Sunday nights at 10 p.m. starting November 21. Episodes explore musical and cultural history, probing how — against the backdrop of the 1960s — four young men from an old northern England seaport changed the world.

The Last Battlefront

Monday, Nov. 8 at 8 p.m. on WETA Metro
(9 p.m. on WETA PBS)

The fight for statehood in Washington, D.C. represents only the latest effort to restore basic rights lost by District residents at the country's founding. In four turning points from 1783 to today, the film The Last Battlefront: Quest for the Vote in Washington, D.C. presents the first historical production created about this issue. Learn about how what happened in the District can be traced to the nation's earliest days — to fights among founding leaders over centralized versus decentralized government, and to core themes of race and politics, which have shaped America throughout its history. Anna Reid Jhirad directed the film, a collaboration between Marigold Productions and Catholic University of America.

The People's Protectors

Saturday, Nov. 6 at 10 p.m. on WETA Metro

In a film airing as part of Native American Heritage Month (visit weta.org/nativeamerican for programs), Native American veterans reflect on their experiences in the military during the Vietnam War and how their communities helped them carry their warrior legacy proudly. From the Marine Corps to the Navy to the U.S. Army, veterans Valerie Barber, Art Owen, Sandy White Hawk, Vince Beyl, and civilian eyapaha (announcer) Jerry Dearly recall their memories of war. Even as they struggled with their relationship to the United States government from past oppression, the Dakota, Lakota and Ojibwe warriors still felt compelled to honor their duty to their people as Akichita | Ogichidaag | Warriors — as protectors of the people.

Trauma to Triumph: The Rise of the Entrepreneur

Saturdays, Nov. 13, 10 p.m.

& Nov. 27, 10:30 p.m. on WETA Metro

The award-winning two-part documentary series Trauma to Triumph: The Rise of the Entrepreneur spotlights challenges and aspirations, profiling a diverse group of men and women who experienced life's harshest trials — racism, genocide, disease, poverty, war, child abuse and teen pregnancy — and emerged triumphant through the spirit of entrepreneurship. The series of human-interest stories demonstrates the power of refusing to fall victim to adversity and taking the path of controlling one's own destiny. The first episode, on November 13, is Survivors of War; the second, on November 27, is Women of Courage.

Catch American History Night programming Thursday nights on WETA Metro — this month featuring WETA co-production Country Music, a film by Ken Burns. For additional documentaries and independent films, tune in Saturday nights on WETA Metro.

Unspoken: America’s Native American Boarding Schools

Tuesday, Nov. 9 at 9 p.m. on WETA World

Airing as part of Native American Heritage Month, Unspoken takes a moving and insightful look into a dark chapter of American history — the story, operation and legacy of the federal Indian Boarding School system, whose goal was total assimilation into Anglo civilization of Native Americans at the cost of stripping away Native culture, tradition and language. The film starts with pre-history and comes full circle to modern day, told in first-person Native American voice by the people who continue to live with the consequences. ## America ReFramed: Hayden & Her Family

Tuesday, Nov. 23 at 8 p.m. on WETA World

This month as part of Season 9 of the documentary series America ReFramed: Elizabeth and Jud Curry are raising 12 children, five of whom are adopted from Vietnam and China, each with special needs. One of those adoptees is Hayden, a young girl born with linear nevus sebaceous syndrome, a disorder that affects her appearance and cognitive abilities. Hayden becomes the thread to this intimate adoption journey as she, her new parents, and her siblings experience the complexities, jealousies and joy of becoming a family.

November Highlights on Classical WETA

Avner Dorman

Music of Remembrance on Choral Showcase

Sundays at 9 p.m. • Hosted by Bill Bukowski

We'll offer music for Veterans Day on November 7:

- Dona Nobis Pacem by Ralph Vaughan Williams, with the Richmond Symphony Chorus and Orchestra.
- A new work by Avner Dorman called Letters from Gettysburg, based on the letters of a soldier who fought and died during the Battle of Gettysburg.
- Music of Amy Beach and Stephen Paulus with The Thirteen Choir.

21st Century Consort on Front Row Washington

Mondays at 9 p.m. • Hosted by John Banther

We feature the 21st Century Consort on November 29 with their concert, "Between Worlds," which was borrowed from and organized in relation to Between Worlds: The Art of Bill Traylor by Leslie Umberger for the Smithsonian American Art Museum.

Bill Traylor was born into slavery in 1853 and lived through Reconstruction, Jim Crow, and the Great Migration, before becoming an artist at age 85. He died in 1949 at 95.

In this concert, 21st Century Consort performs music infused with cultural influences that were likely a part of Traylor's experience, such as Carlos Simon's Lickety Split, and Isai Rabi's Freedom. They also play imaginative and storytelling works such as Migration Miniatures by Corey Dundee and the Clarinet Sonata by David Baker.

MARCO BORGREVE

Behjun Mehta, countertenor

Classical WETA Opera House

Saturdays at 1 p.m. • By Linda Carducci

The spotlight is on Baroque opera on November 6 with George Frideric Handel's Orlando. Considered to be a masterpiece of structure and music, the opera is based on the medieval adventures of a young man in a world of chivalry and sorcery. As was common practice in the Baroque era, the title character was written for a male countertenor — a high-pitched male voice. We'll hear a production of Chicago's Haymarket Opera Company, which specializes in early opera, starring world-renowned countertenor Bejun Mehta.

Maestro Gianandrea Noseda and the NSO at their Season Opening Gala

NSO Showcase — Music Con Passione

Wednesday, November 3 at 9 p.m. on Classical WETA

By Nicole Lacroix, Afternoon On-Air Host

On the night of the National Symphony Orchestra's Season Opening Gala, Maestro Gianandrea Noseda greeted the audience from the Concert Hall stage by riffing on the word compassion. "Life is a journey," he said "and it should be lived with compassion and con passione — with passion."

Classical WETA's NSO Showcase reflects this passionate musical journey in its November 3 broadcast.

For example, when British-African composer Samuel Coleridge-Taylor, whose 4 Noveletten are featured on the program, was warned of discrimination before traveling to the U.S., he wrote a friend, "As for prejudice, I am well prepared for it. Surely [it] will not quite kill me...I am a great believer in my race, and I never lose an opportunity of letting my white friends here know it."

And how about Louise Farrenc, whose career defied the patriarchy? As the only woman to teach at the Paris Conservatory during the entire 19th century, she demanded and received equal pay with her male colleagues. Her Symphony No. 3 is a tour de force that transcends gender.

We'll also hear:

- ▶ Mozart's exuberant Eine kleine Nachtmusik.
- ▶ Haydn's Miracle Symphony, so nicknamed when Haydn's fans rushed the stage in Hanover Square, thus escaping being smashed by a falling chandelier.
- ▶ American composer George Walker's Lyric for Strings, an homage to his grandmother who had suffered the ravages of slavery.
- ▶ Richard Strauss' Duet Concertino, which tells the story of Beauty and the Beast just two years after the end of World War II and its beastly horrors.

NSO Showcase airs on the first Wednesday of the month on Classical WETA; stream on classicalweta.org.
