THE GREAT AMERICAN RECIPE

Season 2 starts June 19

Discover America's recipes and traditions and celebrate the nation's diverse culinary roots

Plus Endeavour: The Final Season on Masterpiece; concerts featuring music icons; and LGBTQ+ Pride Month specials

WETA Focus

This month, we bring you a wonderful array of programming, from superb drama on Masterpiece with the concluding episodes of popular series Endeavour, to this year's finals on student quiz show It's Academic, to new culinary arts competition on The Great American Recipe. Beyond those offerings, we feature a lineup of exciting concerts from top acts such as Bob Dylan and Carole King as part of our summer membership campaign, and a slate of programming airing in celebration of LGBTQ+ Pride Month, including fascinating biographies and documentaries.

We at WETA are very proud of the depth and variety of our programming. Our vital service is the legacy of visionaries who saw the potential of public television to inform, entertain and inspire — a place of lifelong learning. Public broadcasting — and America — lost one such visionary in early May with the passing of Newton Minow, who was chairman of the Federal Communications Commission at the time of WETA's founding in 1961. Among his many pioneering initiatives, he helped launch nonprofit educational television in our nation and was one of its great champions. I hope we made him proud.

In WETA news, I am pleased to share that PBS NewsHour has earned a coveted Peabody Award for journalistic excellence in the news coverage titled "Guns in America." I congratulate our NewsHour colleagues for this recognition of their extraordinary reporting in service to the American public.

Thank you for supporting WETA with your membership; and enjoy our June offerings.

It's championship time on It's Academic, which features high school students from around the D.C. area competing in a single-elimination knowledge tournament. The show wraps up the playoffs and enters the semifinals in back-to-back episodes on Saturdays, June 3 and June 10 at 10 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. (repeating 7 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.) on WETA PBS and WETA Metro — and then presents the competition final on June 17 at 10 a.m. (repeating 7 p.m.). Emmy Award-winning journalist Hillary Howard hosts the series, which WETA brought to WETA PBS and WETA Metro in 2022.

After this year's final, watch for the next season of the show on WETA this fall!

Major funding for It's Academic is provided by MITRE.

ENDEAVOUR

Final Season on Masterpiece

Sundays, June 18-July 2 at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS
& WETA Metro; stream on the PBS App

Catch up on Seasons 1-8 – and watch the Morse spin-off Lewis – with WETA Passport

In the end of an era, the curtain soon drops on the acclaimed, riveting detective series Endeavour after eight previous seasons of the beloved Inspector Morse prequel. The gripping drama — portraying the early years of brooding, gifted Sergeant Endeavour Morse of Thames Valley police in Oxford — reaches its poignant conclusion with three suspenseful final episodes that roll out starting June 18. Shaun Evans stars in the title role, with Roger Allam as his streetwise superior and father-like mentor, DCI Fred Thursday; in the final episodes, the two face intriguing new crimes that include an unsolved case linked to the past. Characters from former seasons pop up in this grand finale, and Morse must try to resolve his professional and romantic future.

Inspired by Masterpiece's 1987-2000 series Inspector Morse, starring John Thaw, and based on Colin Dexter's bestselling mysteries, Endeavour was written with complexity, intricacy and tenderness by series creator Russell

Lewis. The drama turns back the clock to explore the making of this matchless detective, who spurns his first name to go by just "Morse." Endeavour first aired in 2012 and earned a devoted following for Evans, Allam and the other principal actors. The ensemble cast includes veteran actor Anton Lesser as CS Reginald Bright, the exacting head of Oxford's Castle Gate Police Station; Sean Rigby as Morse's friend, colleague, and romantic rival DS Jim Strange; James Bradshaw as the punctilious police pathologist, Dr. Max DeBryn; and Abigail Thaw as Morse's journalist confidante, Dorothea Frazil. Also featured are Caroline O'Neill as Thursday's wife, Win; Sara Vickers as his daughter, Joan, who is the secret object of Morse's infatuation; and Jack Bannon as Thursday's son, Sam.

The ninth and final season of Endeavour opens in spring 1972 with DS Morse rejoining the force after an extended leave to treat his drinking problem, brought on by overwork and personal troubles. Morse is immediately immersed in a world he loves — orchestral music — where the performances are divine, but the personnel can be petty, dictatorial and even homicidal. He and Thursday also investigate a gangland slaying targeting a police informant, known to Thursday. As viewers have learned to expect, the cases in Oxford are often connected. With growing dread, Morse and Thursday face the prospect that an unresolved case (from a previous season) has resurfaced. Now the loose ends begin to intertwine. In the episodes that follow, previous investigations reemerge, new deaths occur, the romantic plot involving Joan Thursday accelerates, and the beguiling, intelligent drama comes to a close. Farewell Morse!

Prior to the final three episodes of Endeavour, the special program Morse & The Last Endeavour on Masterpiece, a documentary looking back at Endeavour, airs Sunday, June 11 at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS and WETA Metro.

New in June for LGBTQ+ Pride Month

WETA celebrates LGBTQ+ Pride Month with special programming that includes independent films, historical documentaries, biographies and more. New films coming to air this month include Independent Lens: Mama Bears (Tuesday, June 20, 10 p.m. on WETA PBS; Saturday, June 24, 8 p.m. on WETA Metro) and American Experience: Casa Susanna (Tuesday, June 27, 8 p.m. on WETA PBS and WETA Metro).

Independent Lens: Mama Bears explores how the lives of conservative, Christian mothers are utterly transformed when they decide to accept their LGBTQ+ children. Spread throughout the country but connected through private Facebook groups, they call one another “mama bears” because of the ferocity with which they fight for their children’s rights and those of the entire LGBTQ+ community. These mothers champion their children — even if it challenges their belief systems and rips apart their worlds.

American Experience: Casa Susanna offers a window on a secret chapter of LGBTQ+ history, relating the story of a modest home in the Catskills region of New York where, in the 1950s and ’60s, an underground network of transgender women and cross-dressing men found refuge, freedom and acceptance. Known as Casa Susanna, the house provided a safe place to express their true selves and live for a few days as they had always dreamed — dressed as and living as women, without fear.

The Great American Recipe, Series 2

Mondays at 10 p.m. starting June 19 on WETA PBS, 9:30 p.m. on WETA Metro; stream on the PBS App

The nationwide cooking competition The Great American Recipe returns with a new season featuring creative home cooks from around the country, presenting eight new episodes that air June 19-August 7. Host Alejandra Ramos (right) and judges and mentors (l-r) Tiffany Derry, Graham Elliot and Leah Cohen return as the uplifting series celebrates the multiculturalism that makes American food unique and iconic. Season 2, filmed in Virginia, introduces a new group of participants who try to impress the judges with signature dishes, from Native American bison short ribs, to Hawaiian loco moco, to Guyanese chicken curry. The series blends food, family and fun, highlighting the wide variety of tastes and traditions from across the U.S. while capturing the roots of America's diverse cuisine. Spotlighting dishes ranging from family favorites passed down through generations to internationally influenced creations that are becoming mainstays of American food, the series mixes camaraderie with competition, revealing rich personal stories and the inspiration behind favorite recipes.

Ridley on Masterpiece

Sundays at 8 p.m. starting June 18 on WETA PBS & WETA Metro; binge-watch with WETA Passport on the PBS App

In the new eight-part Masterpiece mystery series Ridley, retired Detective Inspector Alex Ridley is called back to work to advise on a complex murder case by his replacement and former protégée DI Carol Farman. Carol is keen to access Ridley's unique insight into crime-solving, which served them so well in the past, but the investigation takes a dark and unexpected twist. Adrian Dunbar (Line of Duty; My Left Foot; The Crying Game) stars as Ridley, alongside Bronagh Waugh (The Fall; Unforgotten) as Farman. Additional cast members include Terence Maynard (Death in Paradise; Sherwood) and Julie Graham (The Bletchley Circle). The British police drama, co-written by the creator of Vera, features four standalone two-part cases. In The Peaceful Garden (June), Ridley investigates the murder of a sheep farmer and the connections with the disappearance of a young child years earlier. Hospitality and Swansong (July) see the detective investigating a body discovered buried on the moors and a missing persons case. In The Numbered Days (July-August), Ridley probes the death of a man who falls from a balcony.

Below the Belt: The Last Health Taboo

Wednesday, June 21 at 10 p.m. on WETA PBS & WETA Metro; stream on the PBS App

Through the personal and inspiring stories of four patients urgently searching for answers to mysterious symptoms, the documentary Below the Belt: The Last Health Taboo exposes widespread problems in our healthcare system that disproportionately affect women. Through the lens of endometriosis, a disease that affects 1 in 9 women, the film shows how women are often dismissed, discounted and disbelieved. From societal taboos and gender bias to misinformed doctors and financial barriers to care, the film shines a light on how millions are effectively silenced, and how, by fighting back, Americans can improve health care for all. Through its powerful, intimate storytelling, the program is a tribute to the strength of women and a message for better care. The team behind the film from director Shannon Cohn includes Hillary Rodham Clinton, Orrin Hatch, Rosario Dawson, Corinne Foxx, Mae Whitman, RN Jenneh Rishe and others.

The Bayou: DC's Killer Joint

Monday, June 5 at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS;
8 p.m. on WETA Metro

An Emmy-nominated documentary about the history of the iconic Washington, D.C. nightclub The Bayou explores how, for nearly half a century, the hotspot electrified the local area music scene with a dazzling array of heavyweight performers, undiscovered stars, hometown heroes, and offstage follies. The Bayou: DC's Killer Joint, directed by Dave Lilling, explores how the venue under the Whitehurst Freeway and facing the Georgetown waterfront showcased titans of rock 'n' roll from Dire Straits to Kiss, and jazz icons including Count Basie, Woody Herman and Buddy Rich. Learn about the music emporium's lore: how the band Foreigner made its club debut there; and the time when an obscure Irish foursome, U2, opened for local punk greats The Slickee Boys. Hear about Billy Joel recording live cuts for his LP Songs in the Attic there; Bruce Springsteen, unannounced, showing up to jam there; beloved chanteuse Eva Cassidy making her final performance there; Mickey Mantle and Robert Plant being kicked out of the club (in separate decades) — and much more.

Mavis Staples at Symphony Center, Chicago

Tuesday, June 13 at 8 p.m. on WETA PBS

Civil rights icon and music legend Mavis Staples returned to her hometown on February 4, 2023 for a special performance, documented in the new concert program Mavis Staples at Symphony Center, Chicago. With a presence “so unfailingly joyful that you never take your eyes off her” (The New Yorker), Staples brought her signature smoky sound to Orchestra Hall in a scintillating evening of soul, gospel, and her own brand of R&B. Performances include “Slippery People,” made famous by Talking Heads; “For What’s It Worth” by Buffalo Springfield; and standards such as “Respect Yourself,” “Let’s Do it Again” and “No Time for Crying.” Staples’ impact on music and culture would be difficult to overstate. She’s both a Blues and a Rock and Roll Hall of Famer; a Grammy Award winner; a chart-topping soul/gospel/R&B pioneer; a National Arts Awards Lifetime Achievement recipient; and a Kennedy Center honoree. She marched with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., performed at John F. Kennedy’s inauguration, and sang in Barack Obama’s White House.

Santana Live at the US Festival

Wednesday, June 14 at 9:30 p.m. on WETA PBS

A special concert program offers a front-row seat to a tremendous performance from a guitar legend. On Labor Day weekend in 1982, Carlos Santana and his band took the stage at the US Festival in San Bernardino, California, and gave the audience a thrilling performance. Santana Live at the Us Festival captures the electrifying live experience of this moment in music history and features the famed rock artist’s hits “Black Magic Woman,” “Gypsy Queen,” “Oye Como Va,” and many others — interspersed with interviews with Santana. The US Festival, conceived by Apple co-founder Steve Wozniak and music impresario Bill Graham, was a transformative event for the musician in his long and illustrious career and this performance represents the Rock and Roll Hall of Famer at his best. From award-winning filmmaker and rockumentarian Glenn Aveni, the program offers a front-row seat to the show, which rivaled Santana’s set at Woodstock for its energy, excitement and inspiring artistry.

Carole King: Home Again – Live in Central Park

Tuesday, June 6 at 8 p.m. on WETA PBS

A new feature-length concert documentary presents music icon Carole King’s triumphant May 26, 1973, free concert on the Great Lawn in New York City’s Central Park before an estimated audience of 100,000. Directed by George Scott and produced by Lou Adler and John McDermott, the film presents the complete multi-camera 16mm footage filmed and recorded by Adler in 1973 but never before released. In Carole King: Home Again – Live in Central Park, alongside the performance footage is the behind-the-scenes story of King’s remarkable transformation from an in-demand, staff songwriter beloved for such timeless Goffin and King classics as “(You Make Me Feel Like) A Natural Woman” and “Will You Love Me Tomorrow” to an iconic artist in her own right. The May 1973 performance captured King at her critical and commercial peak, basking in the enormous popularity of her album Tapestry. Interviews with King, Adler and others set the scene for her extraordinary performance. The program repeats Friday, June 16 at 8:30 p.m.

Bob Dylan: Shadow Kingdom

Saturday, June 10 at 10 p.m. on WETA PBS

Airing as part of a slate of June music specials, a 2021 concert film — Bob Dylan: Shadow Kingdom — showcases the iconic musical artist in an intimate setting, performing songs from his extensive body of work. Billed as “The Early Songs of Bob Dylan,” the concert performance was Dylan’s first since December 2019 and the first since the release of his acclaimed album Rough and Rowdy Ways.

The program presents Dylan performing 21st-century versions of songs from his storied back catalog, including gems such as “Queen Jane Approximately” and “Wicked Messenger.” The earliest composition in the set list is fan favorite “It’s All Over Now, Baby Blue” from the 1965 album Bringing It All Back Home, and the most recent is “What Was It You Wanted” from 1989’s Oh Mercy. In addition to Dylan, who plays guitar and harmonica and sings, the song arrangements include two additional guitars, a bass, and an accordion, with a performance of “Forever Young” featuring a dolceaola. The special also includes excerpts from Bob Dylan: The 30th Anniversary Celebration.

Roy Orbison & Friends – A Black and White Night

Saturday, June 3 at 9:30 p.m. on WETA PBS

Recorded live on September 30, 1987 at the Cocoanut Grove in Los Angeles, Roy Orbison’s “Black & White Night” concert featured the music icon and an all-star lineup of special guests in a never-to-be-repeated evening of rock and roll, filmed entirely in black and white. The legendary concert, captured in the program Roy Orbison & Friends – A Black and White Night, features the artist performing with Jackson Browne, T Bone Burnett, Elvis Costello, k.d. lang, Bonnie Raitt, J.D. Souther, Bruce Springsteen, Tom Waits and Jennifer Warnes. When David Lynch’s landmark film Blue Velvet was released in 1986, it featured Orbison’s song “In Dreams” prominently on the soundtrack. Although Orbison had been out of the limelight for some time, the film helped spark new interest in his music. The all-star concert at the Ambassador Hotel’s nightclub was organized and turned into a television special that was first broadcast in January 1988, less than a year before Orbison’s untimely passing. The program repeats Thursday, June 8 at 9:30 p.m.

WETA UK Highlights

Magpie Murders on Masterpiece

Fridays at 10 p.m. starting June 9 on WETA UK

WETA UK features the six-part mystery series Magpie Murders, which premiered on Masterpiece in Fall 2022. Academy Award nominee Lesley Manville stars as book editor Susan Ryeland in Foyle's War writer Anthony Horowitz's adaptation of his own bestselling novel. In the story, Ryeland's star author — irascible mystery writer Alan Conway (Conleth Hill) — dies under suspicious circumstances with his last book seemingly unfinished. Thus, the series presents two mysteries: What happened to Alan? And how does his latest potboiler end? Susan assumes the role of detective in the case, taking place in the here and now. Meanwhile, Tim McMullan (Patrick Melrose) plays Atticus Pünd, the Poirot-like sleuth in the incomplete novel, whose investigation, set in 1955, parallels Susan's. The twin cases unfold together, blending present and past, fact and fiction.

The Travelling Auctioneers

Sundays at 9 p.m. starting June 18 on WETA UK

In a new British series, auctioneer Christina Trevanion and craftsman Will Kirk take their traveling auction house on the road to help families cash in on their hidden treasures via exciting on-site auctions. In each of the 15 episodes of The Travelling Auctioneers, the duo visits a home where they use their skills, expertise and enthusiasm to research, restore and ready items for sale. Christina hunts down the provenance of collectables while Will breathes new life into objects destined for the landfill, each seeking to make the items as desirable as possible for sale. On auction day, with the latest tech at their disposal, the treasures are then sold to the highest bidders at home and around the world. Trevanion and Kirk are on a mission to uncover prized possessions and arm the public with all the tricks of the auction trade.

Beecham House on Masterpiece

Fridays at 9 p.m. starting June 23 on WETA UK

The visually sumptuous, six-part 2020 drama Beecham House is set in 1795 in Delhi, India, relating a story of the era in which Britain and France competed to control the Subcontinent. Shot on location, the Masterpiece series, a saga of mystery, adventure, suspense and passion, follows the fortunes of the residents of an imposing mansion surrounded by acres of grounds and exotic woods. Tom Bateman portrays enigmatic, soulful former soldier John Beecham, who has purchased the magnificent property to begin a new life with his family. The production was created by Gurinder Chadha, the writer, director and producer responsible for films such as Bend It Like Beckham, Bride & Prejudice and Viceroy's House.

Death in Paradise, Series 11

Thursdays at 9 p.m. starting June 8 on WETA UK

WETA reprises the popular sun-soaked mystery series' eleventh season, featuring murder mysteries with a light touch on the fictional Caribbean island of Saint Marie in the Lesser Antilles. DI Neville Parker (Ralf Little), having warmed to the island lifestyle despite an array of afflicting allergies, has more crimes to solve with his team, while also contending with his own emotional complications resulting from working at close quarters with DS Florence Cassell (Joséphine Jobert). Joining the investigations is new character Sergeant Naomi Thomas (Shantol Jackson). The series' eight episodes premiered in 2022.

BBC/RED PLANET

Also this month: Classic, acclaimed mystery series Broadchurch, with David Tennant and Olivia Colman, continues on Saturday nights, entering Series 3 on June 10 at 9 p.m.; and popular Tuesday-night Danish drama Seaside Hotel, featuring an ensemble cast, enters Series 6 on June 6 at 9 p.m. — and Series 7 on June 27.

American Experience: Stonewall Uprising

Thursday, June 15 at 8 p.m. on WETA Metro

As part of its celebration of LGBTQ+ Pride Month in June, WETA reprises a documentary film that explores a major turning point in the modern gay civil rights movement. On June 28, 1969, police raided the Stonewall Inn, a popular gay bar in New York City's Greenwich Village, and violent protests erupted that lasted for six days and came to be known as the Stonewall Riots. Based on David Carter's book "Stonewall:

The Riots that Sparked the Gay Revolution," and told through interviews with Stonewall patrons, reporters, and the policeman who led the raid, Stonewall Uprising recalls the fervently hostile climate in which the gay community lived in that era. See page 2 to learn about Pride Month programming on WETA Metro and WETA PBS.

The Boleyns: A Scandalous Family

Sunday, June 4, 8-11 p.m. on WETA Metro

A three-part miniseries spotlights England's most infamous queen, Anne Boleyn, and her family. The second wife of Henry VIII, Anne was beloved, betrayed and — after being tried for crimes of adultery and treason on the king's orders — beheaded. To understand Anne's rise and fall, The Boleyns: A Scandalous Family illuminates her tight-knit, cunning and power-hungry family. Based on 16th-century letters and documents, the programs offer insights from Tudor scholars and dramatic re-enactments to bring the Boleyns' story to life. Rising to the apex of power, they played a dangerous game and paid a high price; but they also changed British history, leaving Queen Elizabeth I, daughter of Anne, and Queen Elizabeth II, a Boleyn descendant, as legacies.

Breakthrough: Ideas That Changed the World

Saturday, June 17, 8-11 p.m. on WETA Metro

A miniseries featuring back-to-back episodes takes a journey through human history, exploring the impact of iconic inventions that modern people may take for granted yet revolutionized our world. The programs explore the impact of science, invention and technology.

The Telescope introduces those — from Galileo to Edwin Hubble — responsible for creating the technology used to discover the universe. The Airplane takes to the sky with the dreamers whose work gave humans the ability to fly, spotlighting the evolution of flight. The Rocket relates the story of the technology, its use as a weapon, and how rockets helped astronauts reach the moon. The three Breakthrough: Ideas That Changed the World programs repeat midnight-3 a.m. on WETA Metro.

The WETA World channel is a 24/7 news and public affairs service devoted to fact-based nonfiction programming, sharing broad perspectives, stories and ideas. ## For the Love of Friends

Friday, June 2 at 8:30 p.m. on WETA World

In June, WETA World presents more than 40 special programs in celebration of LGBTQ+ Pride Month — visit weta.org/pridemonth — to learn more. Among the offerings is For the Love of Friends, a documentary — set against the lead-up to a stage play based on the same story — that blends performance rehearsal clips with interview and archival footage to highlight the remarkable life and work of activist Brent Nicholson Earle. At the height of the AIDS epidemic, to help awaken America to the crisis and to honor the friends he lost, the actor/playwright's audacious response in 1986 was to embark on a 10,000-mile, 20-month run around the perimeter of the United States to draw attention to the plight of AIDS patients.

America ReFramed: From Here

Thursday, June 1 at 8 p.m. on WETA World

"Where are you really from?" Inspired by a young generation's creative response to this loaded question, the America ReFramed film From Here follows four young artists and activists who represent the future of global citizenry, each from immigrant families coming of age in an era of rising xenophobia. Filmed over the better part of a decade in two of the world's largest immigration countries, the U.S. and Germany, the program captures an international generation's fight for belonging in an era of rising nationalism, as they create families, fight for citizenship, make art and forge identities in societies increasingly hostile to their existence.

Buffalo Soldiers: Fighting on Two Fronts, A Local, USA Special

Monday, June 19 at 8 p.m. on WETA World

A film examines the complex roles played by Buffalo Soldiers in U.S. history, and how they fought on two sets of front lines: military conflicts abroad and civil rights struggles at home. Established by Congress in 1868, the 14th Amendment granted full citizenship to Black men; and many pursued service in the armed forces. They helped lead the expansion of the U.S. westward; they built and guarded the Pacific Railroad, and served as park rangers in places like Yosemite before the government's establishment of the National Park Service. The soldiers fought bravely in the Indian Wars, the Philippine-American War, the Mexican Punitive Expedition, and World Wars I & II. Buffalo Soldiers, in particular, participated in the subjugation of Native peoples as the U.S. appropriated tribal land, and the persecution of striking silver miners in Idaho, and they went up against Filipinos fighting for independence during the Spanish-American War, resulting in a complicated legacy. The film also airs Thursday, June 22 at 9 p.m. on WETA Metro.

NSO Showcase: Music Travels

Wednesday, June 7 at 9 p.m.

If you cannot get away for the summer, NSO Showcase has you covered. In June, National Symphony Orchestra Music Director Gianandrea Noseda and an American guest conductor guide a musical summer vacation through Bohemia, Chicago, Norway and Vienna. First, celebrate the beauties of the natural world as Teddy Abrams leads the orchestra in Czech composer Antonin Dvořák's In Nature's Realm. Then Maestro Noseda takes over with Florence Price's Symphony No. 3, inspired by the Chicago Black Renaissance. Edvard Grieg's Peer Gynt is also on the itinerary, as Noseda demonstrates his characteristic ability to tell a story in stirring detail. The tour ends in Vienna for a triumphant performance of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony. This program showcases the extraordinary artistry of the NSO. Tune in to NSO Showcase on the first Wednesday of each month at 9 p.m. on WETA Classical.

Choral Showcase presents The Wedding/Carmina Burana

Sunday, June 18 at 9 p.m.

Among the offerings on Choral Showcase this month, the June 18 program features music of love, passion, marriage, and fate: two works, remarkably similar, both drawn from ancient folklore. The first is Carl Orff's Carmina Burana, a lusty cantata based on 13th-century Latin and German secular sources, discovered at an abbey near Munich. The second, Igor Stravinsky's Les Noces, or "The Wedding," draws from ancient Slavic folk tradition for a ballet with chorus that inhabits the same sound-world as The Rite of Spring, written just a few years before. Carmina Burana is performed by the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra and Chorus with Donald Runnicles conducting. Les Noces (The Wedding) features the Virginia Symphony Chorus with JoAnn Falletta, conducting. Choral Showcase airs Sundays at 9 p.m. on WETA Classical.

Front Row Washington Features the National Chamber Players with David Kim

Monday, June 19 at 9 p.m.

Front Row Washington presents a very special evening of music put together by James Lee, artistic director of the National Chamber Players, featuring David Kim, Concertmaster of the Philadelphia Orchestra, performing Prokofiev's Sonata for Two Violins and Mendelssohn's beloved Octet. Kim collaborates with the National Chamber Players, made up of members of the National Symphony Orchestra joined by other prominent artists, all under the artistic direction of Lee, cellist of the NSO.

The National Chamber Players has been the resident chamber ensemble at Episcopal High School since 2004; and the ensemble performs four concerts per year in the Ainslie Arts Center's Pendleton Hall. Front Row Washington goes on summer hiatus starting in July and returns in September, airing Mondays at 9 p.m. on WETA Classical.

Also this month: Sunday, 6 p.m. program From the Top, showcasing emerging classical musicians, features a special June 18 Juneteenth episode celebrating young Black classical musicians and presenting works by Black composers such as William Grant Still, Sam Cooke and Florence Price — and a new work by a young composer. On WETA Classical podcast Classical Breakdown, enjoy a "Summer Listening" episode — available June 27 — presenting music recommendations.

Wolf Trap Opera Presentations on Opera Matinee

Saturdays, June 17 & 24 at 1 p.m. on WETA Classical

By Linda Carducci

The Metropolitan Opera concludes its current broadcast season this month with Mozart's Die Zauberflöte (The Magic Flute) on June 3 and Der fliegende Holländer (The Flying Dutchman) on June 10, heard live on respective Saturdays on WETA Classical's Opera Matinee. For the remainder of June, we are delighted to share recorded productions from Wolf Trap Opera's 2022 season at The Barns.

Carl Maria von Weber's landmark drama, Der Freischütz (The Marksman), airs June 17. Combining supernatural elements with folklore and spoken dialogue, Der Freischütz presents a classic struggle between good and evil that stems from a Romantic legend of an unsuccessful huntsman who summons the devil to improve his marksman skills so that he may earn the love of his beloved. It's considered to be one of the premiere German operas of the Romantic era, a period when works began to diverge from Italian opera. Preeminent composers such as Hector Berlioz, Franz Liszt and Richard Wagner admired von Weber's deeply colorful and chilling score — particularly the Wolf's Glen scene, when the opera's hero encounters demons.

Lee Anne Myslewski, Vice President of Wolf Trap Opera and Classical Programming, said of this production, "On a basic level, doing a German opera with a Wolf's Glen scene at Wolf Trap in a German Barn seemed to be an easy decision! We had a cast materialize that was so well-suited to Germanic repertoire, and they made tackling what's widely considered the first German Romantic opera really attractive." Tenor Robert Stahley is the marksman, Max; Alexandria Shiner is his beloved Agathe; and Cory McGee is the sinister Caspar. Lidiya Yankovskaya, a regular at Wolf Trap Opera, conducted.

Airing on Opera Matinee on June 24 is Susannah by American composer Carlisle Floyd, a two-act work composed during the McCarthy era of the 1950s while Floyd was a member of piano faculty of Florida State University. This tragedy of an innocent 18-year-old woman falsely accused as a seductress is based on the Apocryphal biblical tale of Susannah and the Elders. Floyd said that the work was intended to be different from a traditional opera; he explores themes of feminism with, some speculate, overtones of the fear-spreading campaign of McCarthyism. The opera's setting in Tennessee gave Floyd the opportunity to incorporate Appalachian folk melodies, alongside traditional classical music and Protestant hymns.

Floyd's sensitive and moving portrayal was acclaimed after its premiere in 1955: It was awarded the New York Music Critics Circle Award for Best New Opera in 1956 and represented American music and culture at the 1958 World's Fair in Brussels.

"Susannah has been on our short list for a number of years," Ms. Myslewski said. "As one of Floyd's first operatic works, it showcases a maturity and innovation that explains its enduring popularity. The simple Appalachian-inspired melodies are served well by the musicians; Susannah and brother Sam sing some of the most insightful arias in the contemporary repertoire, and our artists do the material justice."

Conductor Stephanie Rhodes Russell led this production with principal singers Ann Toomey, Christian Pursell and Robert Stahley.

Experience opera with us each Saturday on WETA Classical at 1 p.m. on Opera Matinee.
