WETA Rocks
Summer Concert Series
features premier artists

Saturday nights on WETA PBS
Tune in, or stream with WETA Passport
As the summer season begins, WETA programming will entertain, inspire and inform you. Enjoy new episodes of ongoing dramas, including Grantchester; and return to beloved classics such as Foyle’s War. Revel in the WETA Rocks Summer Concert Series, a showcase of vibrant performances by premier musical artists. And engage with new miniseries Hope in the Water and Dynamic Planet to learn about sustainable harvesting from the seas and how we can adapt to climate change. June is also Pride Month, and we present a broad slate of programs across our channels exploring the LGBTQ+ community’s lived experience and more. Among related offerings is the intriguing new series Disco: Soundtrack of a Revolution, which explores how the music was bound up with liberation movements of the 1970s, including LGBTQ+ identity.

In other programming, stay informed with WETA public affairs programs; tune in or stream Washington Week with The Atlantic, PBS NewsHour and PBS News Weekend.

I am honored to share that PBS NewsHour in May won a coveted Peabody Award for the series of news reports and a primetime special titled “War in the Holy Land,” spotlighting the Israel-Hamas War. Congratulations to the NewsHour team on this recognition of excellence in journalism. The awards committee wrote that the reports “showed compassion and a sophisticated understanding of the politics of the region” and presented “the most divisive international story of our time with immediacy, fairness, and vital context.”

Enjoy our June programming, and thank you for your ongoing support.

New Drama Seasons Start Sunday, June 16
On WETA PBS & WETA Metro; stream on the PBS App; binge-watch with WETA Passport as of the broadcast premieres

Professor T, Series 3 (8 p.m.)
The popular British crime series starring Ben Miller, Frances de la Tour and Juliet Stevenson returns with six new episodes. Season 3 of the drama opens with the brilliant, deeply troubled University of Cambridge criminologist Professor Jasper Tempest in jail awaiting trial. Contending with obsessive-compulsive disorder, he is not a typical inmate and the sights, sounds and smells of jail are difficult for him. As Professor T struggles to get his old life and job back, he is aided by Detective Sergeant Dan Winters (Barney White) and Detective Inspector Lisa Donckers (Emma Naomi), who distract him from his situation by soliciting his genius insight to help solve some tricky crimes.

Grantchester, Series 9 on Masterpiece (9 p.m.)
In a new 8-episode season of mystery series Grantchester, it’s 1961 and life in the Cambridgeshire village is good for vicar William Davenport (Tom Brittney) and police detective Geordie Keating (Robson Green). Their two families are always together, and with honorary grandparents Mrs. C and Jack, and adopted uncles Daniel and Leonard, they have a happy circle. Then Will is approached with a life-changing offer. As Geordie struggles with loss, he makes a new acquaintance — charismatic Reverend Alphy Kotteram (Rishi Nair). After a rocky introduction, the two men discover they have a lot in common and begin to collaborate.

DI Ray, Series 2 (10 p.m.)
Parminder Nagra returns as Birmingham police Detective Inspector Rachita Ray, who two months after a suspension is thrust back into homicide probes. In a new investigation, the fatal shootings of an innocent nurse and the head of a notorious crime family point to brewing tensions between rival crime groups. In the six new episodes of Series 2, as she works the high-profile case, Ray continues to contend with prejudice while also trying to prevent the city from erupting into an all-out turf war. The crime drama co-stars Gemma Whelan (Game of Thrones; The Tower) and Jamie Bamber (Law and Order: UK).

A monumental new four-part miniseries travels to the most extreme places on all seven continents to explore the lives of extraordinary people and animals on the front lines of climate change. Highlighting what is under threat but also how the natural world is adapting in surprising ways, Dynamic Planet reveals how science, nature, and traditional knowledge can prepare humanity for the future. As it contextualizes the global scale of climate instability and change, the series features dazzling cinematography of wildlife in Earth’s most remote regions.

- Episode 1: Ice (June 19) — As the planet warms up, the ice at all three poles — the Arctic, Antarctic, and the Himalayas — is melting rapidly, bringing significant consequences.
- Episode 2: Fire (June 26) — With global temperatures on the rise and ecosystems destabilizing, people on the front line of change are working to find answers.
- Episode 3: Water (July 3) — With the world warming, oceans are changing, with far-reaching ramifications for the life they contain and the people who rely upon them.
- Episode 4: Earth (July 10) — With the world’s ecosystems in turmoil, how can we prepare for a rapidly evolving future?

Hope in the Water

9 p.m. Wednesdays, June 19-July 3 on WETA PBS & WETA Metro; stream on the PBS App

A new three-part docuseries from four-time James Beard Award-winning chef and Emmy Award-winner Andrew Zimmern travels the globe to discover the creative solutions and breakthrough “blue-food” technologies that could not only feed humanity but also help save the world’s threatened seas and fresh waterways. Hope in the Water highlights the stories of innovators, aquafarmers and fishers who are working toward a sustainable future. Award-winning filmmaker Brian Peter Falk (Robert Redford’s The Conspirator, What’s Eating America) serves as director of the series. Participating in the programs are environmental enthusiasts Martha Stewart, Baratunde Thurston (with José Andrés), and Shailene Woodley, who seek sustainable solutions while spotlighting hidden underworlds jeopardized by climate change, irresponsible fishing and exploitation, and habitat destruction.

- Episode 1: The Fish in the Sea (June 19) — New approaches to fishing on the open ocean aim to turn peril into plenty. Baratunde Thurston visits Puerto Rico and meets José Andrés.
- Episode 2: Farming in Water (June 26) — Farmed fish has a difficult legacy; can the sea be responsibly and sustainably farmed? Martha Stewart visits coastal Maine to learn how.
- Episode 3: Changing the Menu (July 3) — Rising demand for seafood is increasing pressure on fisheries; diversifying seafood diets can help. Shailene Woodley learns more.
WETA presents a summer concert series — WETA Rocks — that features entertaining rock and pop music concerts each Saturday night on WETA PBS (and some Thursday nights on WETA Metro) throughout June, July and August. Each special (and others too!) are available for streaming with WETA Passport. The concert presentations are hosted by Jack Diamond, a longtime local radio announcer in Greater Washington, and WETA Classical’s Linda Carducci, a former classic rock radio announcer. The two will share information about the artists as well as entertaining stories from the world of popular music. Below are the concert offerings this month. Enjoy the shows!

Elton John: The Million Dollar Piano (June 1 at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS, repeating June 2 at 4:30 p.m.) and Billy Joel: Live at Yankee Stadium (June 1, 10:30 p.m. on WETA PBS) • Celebrate legendary performer Elton John in a spectacular 2012 concert at Caesars Palace; and join the Piano Man for an iconic 1990 concert recorded at the historic Bronx baseball stadium.

Simon and Garfunkel: The Concert in Central Park (June 8 at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS, repeating June 9 at 4:30 p.m.) • See the iconic duo performing before more than 500,000 fans at a 1981 benefit concert for the world’s most famous urban park.

The Rolling Stones: Grrr Live! (June 15 at 9 p.m., repeating on June 16 at 4 p.m.) • Enjoy the band’s 50th anniversary with Bruce Springsteen, Lady Gaga, John Mayer, Mick Taylor, the Black Keys, Gary Clark Jr. and others in a 2012 concert at Newark’s Prudential Center.

Culture Club: Live at Wembley (June 22 at 9 p.m., repeating June 23 at 3 p.m.) and Pet Shop Boys: Dreamworld (June 22 at 10:30 p.m., repeating June 23 at 4:30 p.m.) • Rock out with the ‘80s pop legends Culture Club in a 2016 reunion concert before a hometown London crowd; and celebrate the Pet Shop Boys’ 40th anniversary with a 2023 concert at Copenhagen’s Royal Arena.

Katy Perry: The Prismatic World Tour (June 29 at 9 p.m., repeating June 30 at 3 p.m.) and P!nk! Live from Wembley Arena (June 29 at 10:30 p.m., repeating June 30 at 4:30 p.m) • Experience the sensory explosion of eye-popping theatrics and infectious pop tracks from Katy Perry, one of today’s most captivating performers; and join dynamic singer Pink for a sizzling 2006 concert at London’s Wembley Arena.

Series 3 airs Mondays at 10 p.m. starting June 17 on WETA PBS & WETA Metro, repeating Fridays, 9 p.m.; stream on the PBS App

The third season of PBS’s popular cooking competition series begins this month, featuring eight new talented home cooks, two dynamic new judges and a new location. Award-winning chef and Los Angeles restaurateur Tim Hollingsworth, and Francis Lam, host of public radio’s The Splendid Table, are new judges for Season 3 of The Great American Recipe, joining returning host Alejandra Ramos and judge Tiffany Derry in Nashville, Tennessee for eight new weekly episodes starting June 17. Ramos is a Today Show contributor and writer; and Derry is a celebrity chef, restaurateur and food advocate.

An upbeat cooking competition that spotlights the extraordinary variety of tastes and traditions found across the country, the series celebrates community, tradition and innovation, and the wonderful diversity of America’s cuisine. As in earlier seasons, Series 3 features the competitors preparing their most beloved recipes. Each week the judges determine which home cook has the winning dish and, in the final week, the top three contestants will compete for a chance to win this year’s top honors.

Series 3 participating cooks — Doug Heilman, Kim Sherry, Ingrid Portillo, Mae Chandran, Adjo Honsou, Marcella DiChiara, Jon Hinojosa and Tim Harris — hail from Pennsylvania, Alaska, North Carolina, California, Missouri, Massachusetts, Texas and South Carolina, respectively. This season of The Great American Recipe was filmed at Green Door Gourmet, a 350-acre farm in Nashville.

Disco: Soundtrack of a Revolution

A new three-part series from the BBC and PBS spotlights the surprising and unexplored history of disco — the preeminent popular music of the 1970s. The documentary captures the story of the genre: its rise, its fall and its legacy. From the basement bars of New York City to the peak of global charts, along with iconic tracks and remarkable footage, Disco: Soundtrack of a Revolution presents a powerful, revisionist history of the disco age. The story of the music, and its artistic influence and impact as a social and cultural force for change, is told by the original musicians, promoters and innovators, as well as modern-day musical icons. Participating are The Village People’s Victor Willis, Labelle’s Nona Hendryx, The Trammps’ Earl Young, Scissor Sisters’ Ana Matronic and Jake Shears, Sylvester’s Jeanie Tracy, and an array of others.

• Episode 1: Rock the Boat — Learn how the global disco music craze was born in the apartments and basement bars of 1970s New York.
• Episode 2: Ain’t No Stoppin’ Us Now — As disco conquers the mainstream, see it turn Black women and gay men into icons.
• Episode 3: Stayin’ Alive — Explore how disco fell victim to a violent backlash and emerged to come back stronger.

Disco’s dance-floor culture went on to take over the world, but its success also obscured its wider significance. Inextricably bound up with the major liberation movements of the 1970s, the story of disco speaks to some of the biggest issues of today: LGBTQ+ identity and female empowerment. The series also underscores the genre’s survival. Sparking a hate-fueled backlash, the music and its ethos went back underground, where it evolved into an electronic dance sound that laid the foundations for contemporary dance culture.

The series repeats Sunday, June 16, 12:30–4 p.m. on WETA PBS; and Tuesdays at 9 p.m. starting June 18 on WETA PBS and WETA Metro.

Les Misérables 25th Anniversary Concert at the O2

No one could have guessed on October 8, 1985, when Les Misérables opened in London at the Barbican Theatre that it would become a worldwide phenomenon and be seen by tens of millions of people. In October 2010, the blockbuster musical celebrated its 25th birthday, and to mark the occasion, producer Cameron Mackintosh staged a special celebratory concert in London that hosted a company of more than 300 actors and musicians. Among them were leading UK tenor Alfie Boe as Jean Valjean; Nick Jonas as Marius; Norm Lewis as Javert; Matt Lucas as Thénardier; Lea Salonga as Fantine; Jenny Galloway as Madame Thénardier; and Camilla Kerslake as Cosette; alongside casts from some of the show’s productions. Among songs performed are “I Dreamed a Dream,” “On My Own,” “Stars,” “Bring Him Home,” “Do You Hear the People Sing?,” “One Day More,” “Empty Chairs at Empty Tables” and “Master of the House.”

British Television at Its Best

The WETA UK channel is devoted to the best in British television programming, presenting beloved classics and contemporary series around the clock, seven days a week. WETA UK offers a full schedule of fine entertainment programming – featuring drama, mystery and comedy – in addition to documentary series and news reports.
WETA UK Highlights

Foyle’s War

See it from the beginning!
Fridays at 8 p.m. starting June 7 on WETA UK

WETA UK presents popular mystery series Foyle’s War right from the beginning, presenting Series 1 of the beloved 28-episode drama created by Midsomer Murders screenwriter and author Anthony Horowitz. Michael Kitchen stars as DCI Christopher Foyle, the dogged police detective who fights his own battles on the home front in England during and after World War II. As the drama opens, the quietly enigmatic policeman would rather be serving in the armed forces, but his superiors deem him indispensable for combating crime along England’s south coast, facing invasion by the German army. Uncertainty, espionage, bombs, internment and murder are the facts of life for Foyle and those around him. The cases feature Foyle’s driver Sam Stewart (Honeysuckle Weeks), eager to apply her amateur sleuthing skills, and Foyle’s assistant, DS Paul Milner (Anthony Howell), who was wounded in action in Norway. Stream Series 1-5 with WETA Passport starting June 1.

Luisa Spagnoli: Queen of Chocolate

Tuesdays at 8 p.m. starting June 4 on WETA UK

What do the 1920s, world-famous chocolate, angora rabbits and high-end tailoring have in common? One woman: Luisa Spagnoli (1877-1935). Curated international drama series Walter Presents features a drama exploring the life and work of the famed Italian businesswoman. Driven by remarkable entrepreneurial spirit and extraordinary creativity and modernity, Spagnoli made her mark in an environment unfriendly to powerful, visionary women. The chocolatier who created the company Perugina and introduced its famed line of hazelnut Baci, she also pioneered the use of angora wool in fashion garments. The four-part series Luisa Spagnoli: Queen of Chocolate is presented in Italian with English subtitles.

DI Ray, Series 1

Mondays at 10 p.m. starting June 24 on WETA UK

As Series 2 of crime drama DI Ray premieres on WETA PBS this month, WETA UK presents Series 1 starting June 24. In the four-part drama starring Parminder Nagra, when policewoman DI Rachita Ray is offered a promotion to the Birmingham police force’s homicide team, she’s ready to step up, but her excitement is tempered when her boss, DCI Kerry Henderson, briefs her on her case, a CSH (“culturally specific homicide”) — the suspected honor killing of a Muslim man. She realizes the suspects can’t be guilty: the evidence from a British Hindu family is flimsy at best. Her attempts to convey this to her superiors and colleagues fall on deaf ears and hidden biases. Their keenness to wrap up the case signals that no one is listening to her. That is, until her probing leads the team to additional sinister crimes.

Also on WETA UK in June: Tune in to history series Lucy Worsley’s Royal Myths & Secrets, Thursdays, June 13 & 20, 8-11 p.m.; drama Seaside Hotel, Series 8, Tuesdays at 9 p.m. starting June 11; and food-filled road-trip series Donal’s Irish Adventure, Fridays at 6:30 p.m. starting May 31.

The Green Planet

Wednesday, June 5, 8-11 p.m. on WETA Metro

Hosted by Sir David Attenborough, and created in partnership with BBC Studios’ Natural History Unit, the 2022 documentary series The Green Planet spotlights Earth’s biodiversity through the story of plants. WETA presents three episodes: Tropical Worlds, Water Worlds and Seasonal Worlds. The series uses pioneering new filmmaking technology and the latest science, featuring Attenborough travelling the globe to reveal plants’ strange and wonderful world. Living secret, unseen lives, plants are often overlooked, yet they are as aggressive, competitive and dramatic as animals — locked in life-and-death struggles for food and light, territory and more.

American Masters: Ailey

Saturday, June 1 at 9 p.m. on WETA Metro

As part of a slate of LGBTQ+ Pride Month programming — learn more at weta.org/pridemonth (and on page 4) — WETA features the American Masters biography Ailey, exploring the life and impact of brilliant choreographer and dancer Alvin Ailey (1931-1989), a trailblazing pioneer who founded his influential studio Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater in 1958 at age 27. Raised by a single mother, Ailey in interviews recounts the hardships of his childhood along with memories of blues and gospel music, juke joints, church, young love, and the awakening of his gay identity. Throughout his life he endured racism, homophobia, addiction, and mental illness, but he found salvation through dance. In 1989, Ailey tragically succumbed to an AIDS-related illness. Stream the film on the PBS App.

Roots of Comedy with Jesus Trejo

Fridays at 10 p.m. starting June 21 on WETA Metro (& WETA PBS)

A new stand-up comedy documentary series explores how humor mirrors society’s complex social issues, showcasing six comedians located in diverse regions across the U.S., telling the stories behind the laughs. The six 30-minute episodes of Roots of Comedy with Jesus Trejo — part comedy, part social commentary, part travelogue — follow the host, an L.A.-based Mexican American comedian, as he embarks on an odyssey that reveals how the most memorable comedy traces back to the roots of a community. Along his journey, Trejo meets with rising talents who explore the mosaic of our nation through the lens of stand-up comedy.
America ReFramed: Como Vivimos

Thursday, June 13 at 8 p.m. on WETA World

In California’s Central Valley, hundreds of Mexican American youths miss months of school annually because they live with their families in one of the state’s farmworker housing centers. These subsidized apartments, one of the few affordable housing options available to farmworking families, are only available for residence during the several months of the growing season. They require residents to move out each winter and relocate at least 50 miles away before being allowed to return in the spring; many move away for the off-season. Como Vivimos (How We Live) spends a year following the students and their families, exploring the toll of these cycles of displacement.

American Experience: Stonewall Uprising

Saturday, June 1 at 8 p.m. on WETA World

WETA World presents a wide array of programs marking LGBTQ+ Pride Month in June (see page 4 to learn more), including a documentary film that explores a major turning point in the modern gay civil rights movement. On June 28, 1969, police raided the Stonewall Inn (right), a popular gay bar in New York City’s Greenwich Village, and violent protests erupted that lasted for six days and came to be known as the Stonewall Riots. Based on David Carter’s book “Stonewall: The Riots that Sparked the Gay Revolution,” and told through interviews with Stonewall patrons, reporters, and the policeman who led the raid, Stonewall Uprising recalls the fervently hostile climate in which the gay community lived in that era.

Can You Bring It: Bill T. Jones and D-Man in the Waters

Friday, June 14 at 8:30 p.m. on WETA World

WETA World reprises Rosalynde LeBlanc and Tom Hurwitz’s 2023 study of eminent choreographer-dancer-director Bill T. Jones’ ballet masterpiece D-Man in the Waters. The film, which airs on the series AfroPop: The Ultimate Cultural Exchange, in May won a Peabody Award for its exploration of the groundbreaking 1989 work of art — which emerged in the age of AIDS and gave physical manifestation to the fear, anger, grief, and hope for salvation that Jones and colleagues experienced as the disease took the life of their troupe’s beloved co-founder and other members. In the program, decades later, dance professor LeBlanc — along with Jones himself — works to bring the ballet to life again with contemporary students born after the height of the global health crisis.
Choral Showcase:
Remembering Ozawa
Sundays June 2, 9 & 23 at 9 p.m.

Seiji Ozawa (1935-2024), one of our era’s greatest conductors, passed away in February in Tokyo, and WETA Classical’s Choral Showcase pays tribute to the maestro this month with three of his performances with the Boston Symphony, the orchestra he led for 29 years. In 1969, Ozawa and the BSO made what is still considered a reference recording of Carl Orff’s Carmina Burana, which Choral Showcase presents on June 23. One of the famed orchestra’s great strengths was the French repertoire, and on June 9, from 1993, we will hear the Grande Messe des morts, “The Requiem Mass” by Hector Berlioz. And on June 2, from 1981, we present Gustav Mahler’s Symphony No.8, “Symphony of a Thousand,” recorded with the Tanglewood Festival Chorus. In addition, this month Choral Showcase honors Juneteenth with works by Margaret Bonds and Trevor Weston on June 16, and on June 30 we present an oratorio for the end of time in The Book with Seven Seals by Austrian composer Franz Schmidt.

Wolf Trap Chamber Music on Front Row Washington
Monday, June 3 at 9 p.m.

It has been an exciting season on Front Row Washington as each month we have featured one of the most celebrated concert series in the area, Chamber Music at the Barns at Wolf Trap. We have heard a wide variety of music by past and living composers in these performances curated by Wolf Trap Artistic Advisor Wu Han. The final performance for this season — on our June 3 broadcast — explores the music of Chopin with the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center. Pianists Michael Brown and Gloria Chien perform several of Chopin’s solo works for piano, and they also join together with Cho-Liang Lin (violin) and Nicholas Canellakis (cello) on chamber works that include one of Chopin’s early compositions. Join host John Banther for Front Row Washington.

NSO Showcase: Dvořák, Mahler and Strauss
Wednesday, June 5 at 9 p.m.

This month at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, the National Symphony Orchestra will present Verdi’s Otello in concert opera format. WETA Classical’s June NSO Showcase program will reflect this operatic theme, presenting Dvořák’s Overture with Joseph Young conducting. Also on the bill is Mahler’s Symphony No.4, conducted by NSO Music Director Gianandrea Noseda, with its heavenly fourth movement sung by soprano Katerina Burton — a recent graduate of the Cafritz Young Artist program at Washington National Opera (and a Juilliard graduate who also earned a degree in vocal performance from Maryland’s Towson University). The program will close with a suite from Richard Strauss’ opera Der Rosenkavalier, conducted as well by Noseda.
Wolf Trap Opera Broadcasts Return to Opera Matinee

Saturdays, June 15 & 22 at 1 p.m. on WETA Classical

By Linda Carducci

Upon the conclusion of the Metropolitan Opera season on June 8, WETA Classical continues its tradition of presenting local performances from Wolf Trap Opera — this month presenting two recorded productions from the company’s 2023 season at The Barns.

Wolf Trap Opera (WTO) is a summer residency program of Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Arts, designed to offer emerging professional singers performance experience and career development. WTO selects its artists from among the best emerging classical vocalists in the country and places them in repertoire that showcases their talent.

George Frideric Handel’s Semele airs on WETA Classical’s opera showcase Opera Matinee on June 15. Handel composed Semele in 1744 as a secular oratorio — a musical form more typically based on sacred text. Today, this Handel work is often performed as a fully staged opera, as it was by WTO.

The story is based on a Roman myth of the mortal and pleasure-seeking Semele, who enters into an affair with the Roman god Jupiter. Her vanity and ambition drive her to demand that Jupiter transform her into an immortal goddess. Jupiter’s wife, the goddess Juno, seeks revenge on the lovers. Using deceit and disguise, Juno advises Semele to force Jupiter to comply with Semele’s wish, which leads to Semele’s destruction. From Semele’s ashes arose Bacchus, the god of wine and merriment.

When Semele premiered in London’s Covent Garden during the Lenten period of 1744, it was greeted with puzzlement by the audiences — a secular oratorio composed during a period when Handel primarily wrote sacred oratorios, and one evincing themes of desire, adultery and revenge. Semele was staged only four times and then neglected until its revival in the 20th century. It is now widely performed and recorded by world-class artists, owing to Handel’s transcendent orchestration and heavenly melodies, including the beautiful tenor aria “Where’er You Walk.” This WTO production showcases Esther Tonea in the title role and Lunga Eric Hallam as Jupiter.

Charles Gounod’s Faust airs June 22 on Opera Matinee. The Faust legend is well-known: an aging scholar, depressed and disillusioned with life, makes a deal with Mephistopheles, an agent of the Devil, to sell his soul in exchange for earthly pleasures in the form of power, knowledge, wealth or youth. Variations on the base story have emerged through the ages, but the seductive theme has endured and inspired a multitude of musical, literary and cinematic works, chief among them the play Faust by Goethe.

Gounod’s Faust centers on the protagonist’s covenant with Mephistopheles and the resulting ill-fated romance between Faust and the young Marguerite. Events cascade into tragedy that leaves Marguerite the innocent victim of Faust’s nefarious pact. Yet Marguerite ultimately emerges victorious in an ending that Gounod, a deeply religious man, composed to convey the radiance of salvation. Faust is considered to be the composer’s masterpiece.

WTO’s production of Faust features Eric Taylor, William Clay Thompson and Brittany Logan in principal roles.
