

My Mom's Magical Closet

My Mother's closet

A day at my favorite place would be spent at my mother's closet.

One morning I was walking past my mom's closet and I saw a shiny light coming out of her dark room.

Me being curious I got closer to the light and flung the door wide open.

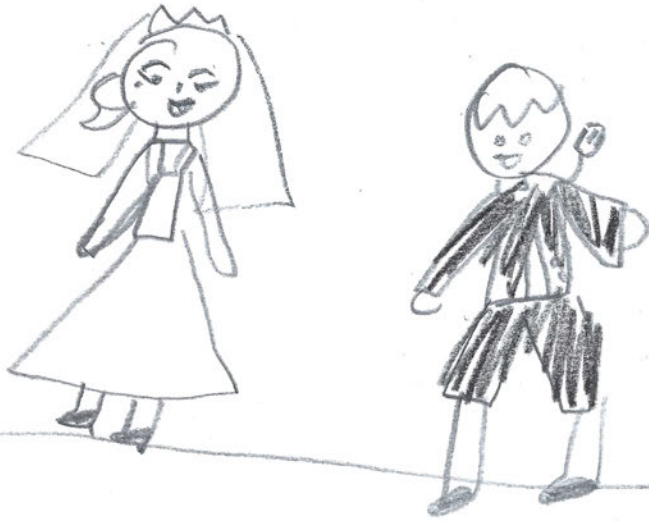

When I went into her closet, I saw 4 beautiful and colorful clothes hanging in her closet. One dress that caught my eye was this silver sequin short dress that was glimmering with light. I had to try that dress on! When I put on the dress a discoball started coming down from the ceiling and music started blaring. I started to dance. I was not in my mom's closet anymore. I was in a party room. Suddenly I see my mom's hanbok, a Korean traditional dress hanging in the middle of the party room. I wanted to try that dress on and see what happens next. When I put the hanbok on I was on the busy street in South Korea. I smelled spicy rice cakes called tteokbok ggi, my mom's favorite food. I was about to eat the Wedding!

rice cake, I see an elegant wedding dress and I remembered my mom got married in South Korea to my dad I tried on the wedding dress. Then I was at a church in my wedding dress and I see my dad smiling at me. He must I am mom.

As I was walking towards my dad I see a business suit hanging near my dad. I run over and try on the suit. I am in a court room and in front of me is a judge. My mom is a lawyer. This is what my mom's work day must be like.

I said to my self this is hard.

I want to go back home. I close my eyes and I am back in my mom's closet. I hear my mom calling me to eat dinner I run downstairs and hug my mom. I told her I appreciate you and you been through a lot.
