Nature: Parenthood

5-part miniseries airs 8 p.m. Wednesdays starting Feb. 4
on WETA PBS; stream anytime on WETA+

WETA Focus

WETA presents a wonderful variety of programs, including a wide array of new offerings this month. On Tuesdays, be sure to catch new episodes of fascinating genealogy and history series Finding Your Roots with Henry Louis Gates, Jr. On Wednesdays, a dazzling new five-part Nature miniseries, Parenthood, spotlights the rearing of young in the animal kingdom; and science series NOVA rolls out intriguing new episodes as well, including an amazing experiment with dogs and push-button communication. Entertaining drama presentations include new episodes of the New Zealand-set series The Brokenwood Mysteries, Thursdays on WETA PBS; and the new mystery series The Puzzle Lady, starring Phyllis Logan of Downton Abbey, on WETA UK.

February is Black History Month, and among the many featured programs across our channels, WETA premieres a new series produced in association with our longtime partner Dr. Henry Louis Gates, Jr. His four-part film Black and Jewish America: An Interwoven History explores the relationship between Black Americans and Jewish Americans and how it was forged in shared struggle and tested by division. The production highlights the enduring promise of that alliance. We also reprise Gates's acclaimed recent series Gospel, a co-production with WETA that illuminates the history and artistry of gospel music.

In a new installment of our local arts and culture production WETA Arts, we spotlight D.C.'s own Heritage Signature Chorale; and biography showcase American Masters chronicles the life of jazz artist and Afrofuturist Sun Ra. Documentary series Independent Lens profiles American stateswoman Barbara Jordan (The Inquisitor); and we reprise films on iconic historical figures Frederick Douglass and Harriet Tubman.

For additional WETA Black History Month television content, learn more at weta.org/blackhistory; and sample curated special program collections on our streaming service WETA+ (see page 6). In our radio presentations, tune in to Black History specials on our channel WETA Virtuoso; details are on page 21.

Thanks for watching, listening and streaming — and stay tuned for more superb programming in March. Shows include the new Florentine Films and WETA co-production Henry David Thoreau and a lineup of blockbuster Masterpiece dramas: new adaptations of The Forsyte Saga and The Count of Monte Cristo; plus the return of a classic series, Downton Abbey.

Thank you for your generous ongoing support for our service to the public.

Nature: Parenthood

New five-part miniseries airs Wednesdays at 8 p.m.
starting Feb. 4 on WETA PBS;
stream with WETA+

The new multipart miniseries Parenthood on Wednesday-night program Nature goes around the globe to spotlight the extraordinary and universal journeys of animal families. Animal parents are just like us — fiercely protective of their young and raising them against all odds in a variety of environments. Witness amazing stories of dedication and sacrifice in a celebration of one of life's great challenges: parenting.

Filmed over 3 years, on 6 continents, and in 23 countries, the five-part series, narrated by Sir David Attenborough, tells the stories of astonishing animal behaviors shaped by surrounding environments. Each habitat has its own unique challenges, but as the world changes rapidly around them, some parents have to adapt to a world shaped by humans. The stakes couldn't be higher — success for all parents ensures the future of life on our planet. Episodes are Grasslands (Feb. 4); Freshwater (Feb. 11); Oceans (Feb. 18); Jungles (Feb. 25); and The Greatest Adventure (March 4) and also air on WETA Metro.

On NOVA: Canine Cognition, Archaeology & More

Wednesdays at 9 p.m.
on WETA PBS & WETA Metro;
stream with WETA+

Wednesday science series NOVA presents four episodes this month on wide-ranging topics. Can Dogs Talk? (Feb. 4) examines whether dogs can understand what we say — and talk back. Witness amazing moments from a major experiment, as thousands of dogs use speech buttons. Pet owners are convinced, but are our furry friends really communicating their thoughts and desires with us? Then, Mammal Origins (Feb. 11) explores mammals' emergence, long before the age of dinosaurs. Learn how some of our earliest ancestors survived global catastrophes, defying extinction and evolving into the vast array of mammals we know today — including us.

Reprised episode Building the Eiffel Tower (Feb. 18) spotlights the revolutionary engineering behind Paris's iconic landmark. Completed in 1889, the iron tower set the record for the tallest structure on Earth, ushering in an age of global construction that reached for the skies. Last, Stone Age Temple Mystery (Feb. 25) looks at evidence at the world's oldest temple that alters our understanding of human history. The latest excavations at the 12,000-year-old Göbekli Tepe in Turkey are making archaeologists rethink the roots of civilization.

A new documentary spotlights the life and legacy of groundbreaking Texas Congresswoman Barbara Jordan, presenting a portrait of the civil rights icon — a trailblazing politician, lawyer, educator, public servant and brilliant orator whose ethical principles and interrogation skills served the United States at pivotal points in history. Rising from segregation-era Houston to become the first Black woman from the South elected to Congress, Jordan emerged as a moral force during some of the nation's most turbulent moments. Through archival footage, intimate testimony, and contemporary insights, the program reveals a woman of profound intellect and discipline who carried her personal burdens — including multiple sclerosis — behind the scenes. Alfre Woodard narrates; and interviewees include Jasmine Crockett, Dan Rather, Sylvia Garcia, Annise Parker and others. The Inquisitor also airs Saturday, Feb. 28 at 8 p.m. on WETA Metro.

American Masters: Sun Ra: Do the Impossible

Friday, Feb. 20 at 9 p.m. on
WETA PBS; stream with WETA+

Poet, philosopher, Egyptologist, bandleader — 20th-century jazz visionary Sun Ra (born Herman Poole Blount in Birmingham, Alabama) was all of these and more. With his ever-evolving band the Sun Ra Arkestra, he produced more than 200 albums, stretching the boundaries of free-form jazz while weaving ancient Egypt, interstellar metaphors, and scientific musings into a singular musical and spiritual vision of Afrofuturism that continues to reverberate across generations. The documentary Sun Ra: Do the Impossible on biography series American Masters explores the artist's life and legacy. The film, directed by Christine Turner and executive-produced by Stanley Nelson, features archival concert footage, rare recordings, and contemporary interviews.

New 4-part series produced in association with WETA airs
Tuesdays, Feb. 3-17 at 9 p.m. on WETA PBS; stream with WETA+

A new four-part docuseries written, hosted and produced by WETA partner Dr. Henry Louis Gates, Jr. explores the complex relationship between Black Americans and Jewish Americans, forged in shared struggle, tested by division, and representing a uniquely American experience. The series — which airs weekly starting February 3 and concludes February 17 with two episodes — is a collaboration with WETA that follows on previous documentaries from Gates and WETA spotlighting American history and culture, including The Black Church: This Is Our Story, This Is Our Song, Black America Since MLK: And Still I Rise, Gospel, Making Black America: Through the Grapevine, and Reconstruction: America After the Civil War.

The film chronicles how Black and Jewish Americans by the early 20th century were drawn together by entrenched racism and rising antisemitism — and how the relationship between these communities deepened after World War II. The Civil Rights Era is often described as the “golden age” of the alliance, when Jewish Americans worked closely with Black leaders and organizers to dismantle Jim Crow segregation.

While shared ideals of justice united Black and Jewish people, the historic alliance eventually suffered as each group turned inward, prioritizing its own struggles and agendas. Still, the hope and promise of solidarity endures. Black and Jewish America explores that promise while confronting the challenges of maintaining unity.

In the film, Gates, the Alphonse Fletcher University Professor at Harvard University and director of the Hutchins Center for African and African American Research, speaks with scholars, activists, religious leaders, and writers about the kinship between the two groups, defined by powerful moments of solidarity and painful episodes of division. Participants include Billy Crystal, Tony Kushner, Anna Deavere Smith, Al Sharpton, David Remnick, and the children of civil rights figures Rev. Ralph Abernathy, Rabbi Abraham Joshua, and Rabbi Israel Dresner.

“This is a deeply personal subject for me,” said Gates. “By tracing the long arc of Black and Jewish history in America, I hope we can see each other more clearly, more honestly, and find hope in our mutual stories of survival, resilience, and solidarity.”

Black and Jewish America: An Interwoven History is a production of McGee Media and Inkwell Media, in association with WETA. Visit the website pbs.org/blackandjewishamerica to learn more about the series; and engage on social media using @HenryLouisGates and @HenryLouisGatesJr.

Corporate support for Black and Jewish America: An Interwoven History was provided by Bank of America and Johnson & Johnson. Major support was provided by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. Major foundation support was provided by The Klarman Family Foundation, the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and Ford Foundation. Major support was also provided by Robert K. Kraft through the Blue Square Alliance Against Hate, Bradley M. Bloom, Abby Milstein and Howard Milstein—Chairman of Emigrant Bank and co-founder of HooverMilstein, Dr. Georgette Bennett in memory of Dr. Leonard Polonsky CBE, Leonard & Judy Lauder, The Ronald & Jo Carole Lauder Foundation, The Righteous Persons Foundation, and Mimi & Peter Haas Fund. Independent Lens: The Librarians

Monday, Feb. 9 at 10 p.m. on
WETA PBS; stream with WETA+

A powerful documentary spotlights the escalating wave of book bans unfolding across the United States — and the librarians on the front lines of the battle for freedom to read. The Librarians follows besieged librarians as they confront book censorship — often at great personal and professional risk. The film visits Texas, Florida, Louisiana, New Jersey and beyond, where local libraries are caught up in a struggle over parental control, intellectual freedom, and democracy itself. Sparked by the controversial “Krause List” in Texas, which targets 850 books centered on race and LGBTQIA+ stories, the film takes an investigative deep dive into the movement against book bans, following the stories of librarians, as well as concerned parents and students flanking them. The film is directed by Oscar-nominee Kim A. Snyder and executive produced by Sarah Jessica Parker.

WETA reprises two 2022 documentary films about the lives of towering figures in the struggle to end slavery in America. The programs are directed by Oscar-nominated filmmaker Stanley Nelson and Nicole London. Harriet Tubman: Visions of Freedom (Feb. 2) spotlights the woman renowned as a conductor of the Underground Railroad and for repeatedly risking her own life and freedom to liberate others. Born in Dorchester County, Maryland in 1822, Tubman escaped north in 1849 and joined the abolitionist movement. Alfre Woodard narrates the Harriet Tubman film, and Wendell Pierce is the voice of Frederick Douglass in both productions. Becoming Frederick Douglass (Feb. 16) presents the story of how a man born into slavery became one of the most influential voices for democracy in American history. Born in 1818 on Maryland’s Eastern Shore, Douglass escaped from slavery in 1838 and went on to lead the abolitionist movement. The film explores the role the gifted writer and charismatic orator played in securing the right to freedom and equality for African Americans.

Desire: The Carl Craig Story

Saturday, Feb. 14 at 10 p.m.
on WETA PBS; stream with WETA+

Learn about the journey and artistry of renowned techno music producer, DJ, and record label creator Carl Craig in a program that is also an ode to his beloved city, Detroit.

With Detroit’s decline and recovery as a backdrop, the documentary follows the career of the musical pioneer, whose genre-defying techno music has been performed in front of jazz enthusiasts at the Montreux Jazz Festival and in the premier classical auditoriums around the world, including Carnegie Hall. Often called the Miles Davis of techno, Craig fuses soul, jazz, and funk into his music. Discover how music shaped Craig’s life as a child, propelled him to England to explore the scene he was helping to create, and then took him around the globe. The film is a testament to breaking barriers and pushing boundaries — and celebrates Black cultural innovation. The program also airs Feb. 12 at 8 p.m. on WETA Metro.

Choral Music and Comedy on WETA Arts

In February, WETA's Emmy Award-winning series WETA Arts spotlights two staples of the Washington-area arts scene: choral music and comedy. First, meet Stanley J. Thurston, the founder and artistic director of the Heritage Signature Chorale (HSC), now in its 26th year. The chorus champions African American composers, genres and performers of classical music. With a newly launched smaller ensemble, the HSC Chamber Singers, Thurston can present repertoire he has long aspired to conduct. Also, host Felicia Curry shares some laughs with Chris White, director of creative marketing at famed comedy club DC Improv, and Callie Hawkins, CEO of President Lincoln's Cottage, while learning about their unlikely partnership. The latter institution, a National Monument located in D.C.'s Petworth community, collaborates with DC Improv to present "Two Faces Comedy," a stand-up series inspired by Abraham Lincoln's sense of humor, and paying tribute to his humanity. Laugh along with three comedians who are also lawyers! WETA Arts repeats Feb. 23 at 9:30 p.m. on WETA PBS.

Gospel

WETA co-production airs
Saturdays at 9 p.m. in February
on WETA PBS; stream with WETA+

A 2024 documentary series from WETA partner Prof. Henry Louis Gates, Jr. spotlights gospel music and its history, artistry and power. The four-part WETA co-production Gospel, produced, written and hosted by Gates, weaves interviews with musical performances as it illuminates the story of Black religious music and preaching, exploring the evolution of gospel since its conception. In the film, Gates — the Alphonse Fletcher University Professor and Director of the Hutchins Center for African and African American Research at Harvard University — speaks with clergymen, singers and scholars about their connection to the music that has transcended its origins and now is a global phenomenon. The series features luminaries such as Dionne Warwick. Visit pbs.org/gospel to learn more. Episodes airs Saturdays at 9 p.m. (9:30 p.m. on Feb. 28).

King of Them All: The Story of King Records

Friday, Feb. 20 at 10:30 p.m.
on WETA PBS; stream with WETA+

A documentary brings to light the untold story of one of America's most groundbreaking record labels. Founded in 1943 in Cincinnati by Syd Nathan, King Records reshaped the American musical landscape by recording country, rhythm & blues, and rock 'n' roll under one roof — at a time when the music industry, and the nation itself, was divided by race and genre. The label launched the careers of legendary artists, including James Brown (above), Wynonie Harris, Hank Ballard, Little Willie John, The Stanley Brothers, and countless others whose influence can still be heard today. King of Them All: The Story of King Records blends rare archival footage and interviews.

8:00 FINDING YOUR ROOTS WITH HENRY LOUIS GATES, JR., SEASON 12 — In this series produced in association with WETA, join Harvard scholar Henry Louis Gates, Jr. as he delves into the genealogy of famous Americans. Episode 7 of 10. Family Harmonies. Gates explores the family trees of celebrated musicians Lizzo and Flea — traveling across Europe, Australia and the American South to uncover stories of ancestors who inspired their work. Repeats Wed 2/18, 3pm; Sat 2/21, 11pm; Sun 2/22, 3pm

9:00 BLACK AND JEWISH AMERICA: AN INTERWOVEN HISTORY — A series produced in association with WETA and written and hosted by Prof. Henry Louis Gates, Jr. traces the rich, complex relationship between Black and Jewish Americans — forged through shared struggles against racism and antisemitism. Part 3 of 4. The Grand Alliance. Episode 3 recalls the 1950s and 1960s alliance between Black and Jewish communities. From Brown v. Board to Freedom Summer, Jews were key allies in the Black-led civil rights movement. By the end of the 1960s, however, fractures grew as overseas conflict and the domestic realities of race and class pushed the communities apart. Repeats Wed 2/18, 4pm; Sat 2/21, 8pm; Sat 2/28, 4:30pm

10:00 BLACK AND JEWISH AMERICA: AN INTERWOVEN HISTORY — The series, produced in association with WETA and written and hosted by Prof. Henry Louis Gates, Jr., concludes. Part 4 of 4. Crossroads. Episode 4 explores the evolving Black and Jewish alliance from the 1970s onward. From affirmative action and political milestones to Middle East tensions and rising hate, this episode examines challenges, shared struggles, and the lessons of solidarity in a divided America. Repeats Sat 2/28, 8pm

18 Wednesday

8:00 NATURE: PARENTHOOD — Part 3 of 5. Oceans. Ocean parents must master dedication and intelligence to raise their young. In Australia, an orca mother teaches her young how to hunt blue whales, while in Indonesia, a Banggai cardinalfish protects his young inside his mouth. Repeats Thur 2/19, 3pm

9:00 NOVA: BUILDING THE EIFFEL TOWER — Explore the revolutionary engineering behind Paris's iconic landmark. Completed in 1889, the iron tower smashed the record for the tallest structure on Earth, ushering in a new age of global construction that reached for the skies. Repeats Thur 2/19, 4pm

10:00 SECRETS OF THE DEAD: MOZART'S SISTER — Learn about Maria Anna Mozart, older sister to Wolfgang and a musical prodigy in her own right. Did she help to write some of her famous brother's earliest music? Repeats Sun 2/22, noon, 11pm

19 Thursday

8:00 THE BROKENWOOD MYSTERIES, SERIES 7 — Episode 3 of 6. Dog Day Morning. When four masked men attempt to rob the Brokenwood Savings Bank, Mike and the team must find out which one of them pulled the trigger, killing the bank manager. Repeats Fri 2/20, 3pm

Ice-Breaker: The '72 Summit Series

Saturday, Feb. 7 at 8 p.m. on WETA Metro

WETA Metro features a remarkable hockey story: Some fifty years ago, tens of millions of Canadian and Soviet citizens were mesmerized by what is now known as the “Summit Series.” Faced with Cold War tensions, Canada sought to ease its conflict with the Soviet Union through a historic, best-on-best hockey series, providing common ground for both nations. These games led to the growth of sports diplomacy and reduced the risk of war. Featuring Wayne Gretzky, Vladislav Tretiak and others, Ice-Breaker presents stories from the Summit Series, exploring the impact of the competitions. The program also airs on WETA PBS, Feb. 8 at 12:58 p.m.

American Experience: Forgotten Hero: Walter White and the NAACP

Wednesday, Feb. 4 at 7 p.m. on WETA World

Both WETA World and WETA Metro feature Black History Month programming – visit weta.org/blackhistory to learn more. This month on American Experience: The civil rights movement in America was set in motion by activists of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. While some of its leaders are familiar, Walter White — NAACP head from 1929 to 1955 and one of America’s most influential Black men — has been all but forgotten. The two-hour film Forgotten Hero traces the fascinating, complex life of this civil rights icon who, with blond hair and blue eyes, looked white. He launched an important courtroom campaign battling segregation and discrimination and aiming to expand voting rights.

WETA UK Highlights

The Puzzle Lady

Wednesdays at 8 p.m.
starting Feb. 25 on WETA UK

When a strange murder takes place in the sleepy English market town of Bakerbury, the local police are baffled by a crossword puzzle clue left on the body. Fortunately, the community's newest and most famous resident is Cora Felton, a.k.a. "The Puzzle Lady," who has just moved to town with her niece, Sherry Carter. Cora's eccentric, no-nonsense approach proves a perfect way to outwit the murderers, con men and corrupt officials that stand in her way. Despite hiding a secret surrounding her persona that would ruin her and those around her, Cora has a remarkable talent for solving murders. And Bakerbury isn't as sleepy as it looks. The 6-episode mystery series is based on the novels of Parnell Hall and stars Phyllis Logan (Downton Abbey), Charlotte Hope (Game of Thrones) and Adam Best.

Beyond Paradise

Wednesdays at 9 p.m.
starting Feb. 25 on WETA UK

Aspin-off from popular mystery series Death in Paradise follows DI Humphrey Goodman (Kris Marshall) and his fiancée Martha (Sally Bretton) as they leave London to start a new life on the Devon coast. In Series 1, Humphrey takes up the position of Detective Inspector at Shipton Abbott police station, a slightly antiquated outpost of the Devon & Cornwall Police District. Meanwhile, Martha's keen to open up her own café. Both are hoping for a quiet lifestyle away from the stress and violence of the city. But it doesn't take long for the couple to realize that countryside life is not going to be so quiet after all. For one thing, there's the high crime rate to contend with. Goodman's teammates include DS Esther Williams (Zahra Ahmadi), PC Kelby Hartford (Dylan Llewellyn, Derry Girls), and office worker Margo Martins (Felicity Montagu).

School of Champions

Sat/Sun, Feb. 7 & 8, 1-5 p.m. on WETA UK

Atale of love, rivalry and self-discovery, the 2023 Austro-Swiss drama School of Champions follows life for the freshman class at Austria's elite ski academy: a whirlwind of ambition, emotion and fierce competition. In the 8-part series, reprised over two days, students selected from domestic and international applicants wrestle with love and jealousy, loyalty and betrayal, ambition and frustration while nurturing newfound friendships and dealing with intense performance pressure. Meanwhile, school administrators, including the director, a former Olympic athlete, battle their own issues. The drama is set in the Salzburg region's Gastein Valley and is presented in German with English subtitles.

DARIO ACOSTA

Daniil Trifonov on Front Row Washington

Monday, February 16 at 9 p.m.

An exciting month of live concert recordings is ahead on Front Row Washington, but one performer stands out as a leader in classical music today. On February 16, the program features renowned piano virtuoso Daniil Trifonov in a concert of some of the most difficult music composed for the instrument. From his December 2022 concert at Shriver Hall Concert Series, hear Tchaikovsky's Children's Album, Op. 3; Robert Schumann's Fantasia in C Major, Op. 17; Mozart's Fantasia in C minor, K. 475; Scriabin's Sonata No. 5, Op. 53; and, by Maurice Ravel, one of the most difficult works for the piano, Gaspard de la nuit. Tune in to WETA Classical each Monday at 9 p.m. for local concert recordings on Front Row Washington.

ANDY STAPLES

Gabrieli Consort

Fauré, Dvořák & More on Choral Showcase

Sundays at 9 p.m.

Choral Showcase revisits the original 1900 score of The Dream of Gerontius by Sir Edward Elgar on February 1, with an album issued last year by Gabrieli Roar and the Gabrieli Consort and Players led by Paul McCreesh. On February 8, Gabriel Fauré's beloved Requiem is paired with a rare Missa pro Defunctis, or Mass for the Dead, by Baroque composer Pierre Bouteiller. Featured on February 15 is a recording of Antonín Dvořák's grand, contemplative Requiem Mass — written when the composer was 50 — conducted by Istvan Kertész. And Steven Fox directs The Clarion Choir in Sergei Rachmaninoff's Vespers, the All-Night Vigil, on February 22. Tune in to Choral Showcase, Sundays at 9 p.m. on WETA Classical.

COURTESY NICOLE LACROIX

WETA Classical's Nicole Lacroix at an NSO concert at La Scala

From the Wild West to La Scala on NSO Showcase

Wednesday, February 4 at 9 p.m.

Aaron Copland's 1938 western ballet Billy the Kid Suite opens February's NSO Showcase program; then featured are two pieces from the National Symphony Orchestra's February 2024 European tour visiting nine cities and performing in storied venues from the Palau in Barcelona to La Scala in music director Gianandrea Noseda's hometown of Milan. Kennedy Center Composer-in-Residence Carlos Simon's Wake Up! Concerto for Orchestra showcased the NSO's virtuosity and shared an artistic and philosophical message. And Dmitri Shostakovich's 5th Symphony, an NSO signature work during Mstislav Rostropovich's tenure as music director, and well-loved by Maestro Noseda, proved to be an audience favorite during the tour.

Black Voices in Classical on WETA Virtuoso

Adolphus Hailstork • Tuesday, February 10 at 2 p.m.

Margaret Bonds • Wednesday, February 11 at 2 p.m.

By Evan Keely, On-Air Host

Music that inspires us, challenges us, soothes us, and thrills us comes from every corner of the world, from people of every conceivable background. Black History Month provides a wonderful opportunity to think more deeply about the incomparable contributions of Black artists to classical music. Because those accomplishments are so vast both in their scope and their richness, it isn't possible to honor more than a tiny fraction of those treasures in a single month. This February, join us for the special programs Black Voices in Classical on WETA Virtuoso as we highlight two composers:

- Following up on a recent episode of the WETA Classical podcast Classical Breakdown (at classicalbreakdown.org or wherever you get your podcasts), on Tuesday, February 10 at 2 p.m., a program on WETA Virtuoso will explore the music of Adolphus Hailstork (b. 1941), a Howard University alumnus and current Virginia resident who studied with Nadia Boulanger, Mark Fax and David Diamond. Some of his major works include An American Port of Call, commissioned by the Virginia Symphony; Celebration! for the U.S. Bicentennial; and Armageddon, a work for organ and percussion written in response to the 9/11 attacks. Hailstork's music is also featured on the February WETA Arts program (on WETA PBS) in a performance by Heritage Signature Chorale that includes some of the many choral works by the composer. The WETA Arts program will be available starting February 9 on streaming service WETA+.
- The music of American composer Margaret Bonds (1913–1972) has been featured on WETA Classical's Choral Showcase and on Classical Breakdown. Born in Chicago, her father was an MD and civil rights activist, and her mother was a skilled musician. One of Bonds's mentors was Florence Price, and she also studied with Roy Harris at Juilliard. In the mid-1930s, she and Langston Hughes became friends, and they collaborated on a number of creative projects, including their Christmas cantata Ballad of the Brown King. Join us on WETA Virtuoso on Wednesday, February 11 at 2 p.m. for an exploration of her works and legacy, including her Montgomery Variations, a powerful 1964 orchestral suite honoring the civil rights movement. This piece is featured on a new Grammy-nominated Deutsche Grammophon album by the Philadelphia Orchestra, conducted by Yannick Nézet-Séguin.
